Apollo 13 Heads Home

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Three troubled American astronauts discovered carbon dioxide building up in their hobbled spacecraft Tuesday night as they sped on a hurry-up course toward home. Mission Control ordered a quick, makeshift air-cleansing device installed.

But it was too early to tell whether the device had worked, or how serious the carbon dioxide levels were. If there is no alleviation and the problem continues to build up, the astronauts could suffocate—or be forced to use valuable oxygen to purge their cabin of foul air.

The astronauts, James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and Jack L. Swigert were alerted by warning lights that the carbon dioxide levels were rising. Oxygen breathed in combines with carbon in the blood and carbon dioxide is exhaled by all living creatures. The Apollo 13 carries lithium hydroxide canisters to cleanse their air of carbon dioxide. But the canisters in the command ship are not operating and those in the little lunar lander are not capable of handling the load for both spacecraft now joined nose to nose for the three day trip home.

Mission Control ordered the astronauts to take a spare lithium hydroxide canister, of which the spacecraft has several, and link it up with plastic tape and a stocking to the air system.

"We've got to rig up some way to use the lithium hydroxide canister," Lovell told Mission Control.

"Our CO-2 pressure is getting high. We had a caution and warning light." High levels of carbon dioxide cause suffocation by denying the lungs oxygen. It is unlike carbon monoxide given off by machines which kills by forming toxic substances in the body. The carbon dioxide problem arose just when things seemed to be going well for a change. The astronauts had spurred their hobbled spaceship ahead with a burst of rocket power from the main engine of the moon lander, speeding their return to earth by ten hours in a race against the depletion of vital and already short supplies of water, oxygen and electricity. "Shutdown," called Lovell at 9:44 p.m. EST as the engine cut off. "Now we want to power down as soon as possible."

The firing came with the spacecraft on the way home, 6,555 miles from the moon, and nearly a quarter-million miles from earth. They were on direct course for a 12:18 p.m., EST, splashdown Friday in the Pacific.

Meanwhile experts on the ground may have zeroed in on what caused the sudden loss of oxygen Monday night and the subsequent failure of electricity and water producing fuel cells. The best theory, they said, was that there was a short circuit in the supercold oxygen storage tank allowing pressures to build up over 1,500 pounds per square inch and causing the oxygen tank to rupture. That would explain the explosion heard by the astronauts that set off all their troubles. Tuesday night, a little more than an hour and a half before the rocket firing, they emerged from their only pass behind the moon, and their only close-up view of the surface they had hoped to explore. There was not a word about disappointment, only a business-like approach to the procedures for saving their lives. (Turn to Page Six)

Sisco Tells Egypt Compromise Plans

CAIRO (AP) — Asst. Secretary of State Joseph Sisco who has wound up three days of talks here is reported to have told President Gamal Abdel Nasser Egypt must take a more flexible stand if it is to achieve any kind of peace with Israel.

Sisco, who arrived in Tel Aviv Tuesday for talks with Israeli officials, will tell Prime Minister Golda Meir that her government must also be willing to compromise for the sake of achieving a political solution to the stalemate, informed sources in Cairo said.

After two days of talks in Israel, Sisco is scheduled to continue on to Jordan and Lebanon. Judging from the statement he made on his arrival in Cairo last Friday, Sisco brought the same message for the Arab states and Israel: The United States stands firmly behind the U.N. Security Council resolution of November 1967 as the basis of a solution to the perennial Arab-Israeli conflict.

This calls for Israel's withdrawal from areas it seized in the June 1967 war and for an end to Arab belligerence against Israel with "secure and recognized boundaries" for the Jewish state. The United States would like to see more give on each side so that in Sisco's words a just peace can "replace the senseless killing and destruction." American officials see scant chance if both sides stand on their publicly proclaimed positions. The four major powers have been trying to work out guidelines for U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring in future peace efforts.

Sisco has assured the Egyptians that the United States "wants to be the friend of all of the peoples of the area"—in other words, of Arabs as well as Israelis.

Sisco's meetings with Nasser, and other Egyptian officials were described as "cordial and frank" exchanges in which each side had an opportunity to explain its position and policies.

Sisco was the first high-level American official to visit Egypt and meet Nasser since the Nixon administration took office.

In Amman, Jordan's capital, students roamed the streets demonstrating in protest against Sisco's Middle East visit.

Youths shouted slogans and carried placards saying "Sisco, your Phantoms will not defeat our people," and "students and people will not forget the Egyptian school massacre."

Elsewhere in the Middle East:

Arab guerrilla groups destroyed Israeli installations in the Jordan Valley, the Palestine Armed Struggle Command announced in Amman.

The announcement said commandos of the El Fatah, Saiga and Arab Liberation fronts struck with heavy mortars and rockets along the cease-fire line from the Himmeh area in south-east Galilee to destroy installations at a camp in the northern Jordan Valley.

Cambodia Requests Aid Against Cong

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Premier Lon Nol of Cambodia called for outside military aid Tuesday because of reverses of his army at the hands of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces along the eastern frontier and in the interior.

"In view of the gravity of the present situation," he said in a radio broadcast, "the government considers it necessary to accept from this moment on all unconditional foreign aid from any sources for the national welfare."

The appeal seemed addressed primarily to the United States, which alone among the non-Communist powers is in a position to furnish military aid in a hurry.

"Against the enemy's rejection of all moves toward negotiation and before its willful desire for conquest, flouting all international laws, what is there left?" Lon Nol demanded. "Defend our soil! But we need more arms to assure an effective defense."

The Cambodian army of 35,000 men has a variety of weapons from various nations in both power blocs, making it difficult to supply ammunition. Military observers consider the army is in no condition to fight the seasoned veterans of the Communist command.

This was shown up in a number of pessimistic battle reports flowing into Phnom Penh. Viet Cong troops seized the village of Kerk near the South Vietnamese frontier, then swept up Highway 7 and attacked an outpost near Suong. Suong is 55 air miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

In South Vietnam, North Vietnamese troops attacked a South Vietnamese frontier station on Highway 1 behind a mortar and rocket barrage that was fired from Cambodia.

Military sources said the attack was repulsed with 96 North Vietnamese killed. The station's 150 militiamen suffered seven killed and more than a dozen wounded before South Vietnamese artillery and fighter-bombers drove the enemy back into Cambodia. The battle was fought 42 miles northwest of Saigon.

In the central highlands, government irregulars recaptured the Green Beret outposts of Dak Pek, 295 miles northeast of Saigon. The North Vietnamese seized the outpost Sunday but apparently withdrew Tuesday when the South Vietnamese attacked. South Vietnamese soldiers said 25 North Vietnamese bodies were found in and around the camp. Their own losses were two wounded.

Trucker Strikes Continue Tuesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Wildcat trucker strikes continued in a number of cities Tuesday. Teachers in Los Angeles and Minneapolis remained off the job. Air traffic controllers returned to work, apparently ending their 20-day "sick out" job action.

In New York, negotiations continued between four major daily newspapers and 10 employe unions after the New York Newspaper Guild agreed to postpone indefinitely a strike it had set for Tuesday at the New York Post.

Elsewhere, 450 teachers in Butte, Mont., ended a four-day strike and returned to work after contract wording was changed on hiring administrators from outside the school district.

And editorial workers at the Boston Record American accepted management's original contract offer, ending the strike they began last Saturday. Details were not immediately available.

Trucker strikes, protesting a tentative nationwide contract offer providing wage increases of $1.10 an hour over three years, have resulted in layoffs in some parts-short industries in St. Louis, Buffalo, Milwaukee and Kenosha, Wis.

Several shooting incidents were being probed to determine if they were connected with the truckers' dispute.

Some Chicago drivers who won increases of $1.65 an hour over three years after independent bargaining have remained on the job.

Meanwhile, in Washington, a spokesman for Trucking Employers Inc. said the Chicago figure would become effective only if a national agreement calling for it is reached.

But, he said, "Such a development is not in the cards."

The Teamsters union is setting up a referendum on the $1.10 offer.

The back-to-work trend among traffic controllers followed increasing court pressure, including a temporary injunction issued Monday in New York.

Military Chiefs Selected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, who survived the Pearl Harbor attack to rise to chief of naval operations, was chosen Tuesday to head all the nation's military chiefs.

President Nixon announced selection of the 58-year-old Moorer, son of an Alabama dentist, to succeed Army Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, who is retiring after a record six years as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

At the same time, Nixon reached far down the Navy seniority list to elevate Vice Adm. Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., now commander of naval forces in Vietnam, to Navy chief, replacing Moorer.

Subject to Senate confirmation, which is expected, Moorer and Zumwalt will take over their new posts on July 2.

Moorer's nomination as JCS chairman gives the Navy the topmost military job for the first time since Adm. Arthur W. Radford retired in August 1957.

It also breaks an Army string of three JCS chairmen. An Air Force officer was the last non-Army man to hold the chairmanship, ten years ago.

Moorer, a pilot in his earlier Navy years, emerged as one of the Navy's top strategic thinkers and fleet commanders.

Long ago, even before he was promoted to chief of naval operations in 1967, Moorer was tabbed by many in the Pentagon as a potential JCS chairman.

He has strong supporters among senior officers in the Army, Air Force and Marines—which may have helped bring about his selection as JCS chairman, where he must take a broader view on strategy and policy than as the head of the Navy.

Born Feb. 9, 1912, at Mount Willing, Ala., Moorer graduated from high school at 15 and at first leaned toward an engineering education.

But he chose a naval career instead, graduating from Annapolis in 1933.

When the Japanese struck Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, Moorer managed to take off in his patrol plane and flew out in search of Japanese carriers from which the surprise strike was launched.

Through his long career, Moorer has collected 30 medals.

After World War II, Moorer saw service in cruise, aircraft carriers, fighter, bomber and patrol squadrons as he moved toward more senior and significant posts.

Among other key jobs which drew attention, he was a special assistant in the Navy's strategic plans division.

He has held most of the senior fleet commands, including the Atlantic Fleet, the Pacific Fleet, and the 7th Fleet in the Far East.

Married to the former Carrie Ellen Foy of Eufaula, Ala., Moorer has three sons and a daughter.

Nixon's appointment of Moorer somewhat overshadowed his choice of Zumwalt.

But it was noted that Nixon passed over seven four-star admirals to reach the 49-year-old Zumwalt.

The Navy said Zumwalt is the youngest officer to become CNO since the job was created 20 years ago.

He has been presiding over the swift reduction in the U.S. Navy's role in Vietnam, which will be all but ended except for an advisory mission this summer.

Born in San Francisco on Nov. 29, 1920, Zumwalt is an Annapolis graduate, class of '42.

He saw combat in both World War II and the Korean War.

Announces Court Nomination Nixon Makes 3rd Try

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Harry A. Blackmun of Minnesota was named Tuesday by President Nixon to fill the much-fought-over Supreme Court vacancy which is now nearly a year old.

The appointment, announced by presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler some hours after it had become known unofficially, is Nixon's third effort to fill the long-vacant seat.

Earlier, two Southern jurists were denied confirmation by the Senate. And after his second refusal last week Nixon said he would not name another Southerner in his quest for a so-called strict constructionist but would look elsewhere for a conservative nominee because he believes the present Senate will not accept a Southerner. Several senators denied this.

Ziegler told reporters the 61-year-old member of the 8th U.S. Court of Appeals was selected from a group of six possibilities.

The press secretary said that in contrast to the procedure on the two earlier appointments the President conferred in person with Blackmun before nominating him.

Ziegler continued:

"The President said he was highly impressed with Judge Blackmun's personal qualities and that he was highly impressed when he studied the judicial record. He considers Judge Blackmun to be a strict constructionist."

Although Blackmun is a longtime, close personal friend of Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, Ziegler said Burger made no recommendation for Blackmun's appointment. But the chief justice was consulted on the appointee's record, Ziegler said.

The Senate Judiciary Committee plans to start public hearings a week after the nomination is submitted formally to the Senate.

If no major opposition develops, it is likely that committee and floor votes will come quickly so that the court can be restored to its normal complement of nine justices.

Its present eight-man makeup reportedly has prevented decisions on some major pending cases because the justices are evenly divided, four and four.

Republican Senate leaders and GOP members of the Senate Judiciary Committee met for about an hour Tuesday with Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and were briefed on the nominee selected by the President.

Nixon's first two choices for the court post, Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of South Carolina and Judge G. Harrold Carswell of Florida, were rejected by the Senate after long, bitter battles.

But Sen. Milton R. Young of North Dakota, one of the GOP leaders who attended the meeting with Kleindienst, told reporters he sees no reason why Blackmun should have any difficulty in being confirmed.

Blackmun was reached during a court recess of the appellate court at St. Louis after the report of his pending nomination was circulated but he would not comment beyond saying "I have mixed emotions about it, even if it should come."

After the Senate rejected Carswell's nomination last Wednesday by a 51-45 vote, Nixon said he had reluctantly concluded that the Senate, as now constituted, would not confirm a Southern judge who shares his views that the Constitution should be strictly construed.

He nominated Carswell, a judge on the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals, after the Senate refused last November by a 55-45 vote to confirm his first choice, Haynsworth, of the 4th Court of Appeals.

Editorial Comment

Right Course On Welfare

The Supreme Court has rightly refused to substitute its own judgment for that of the states on the wisdom of putting a top limit on the amount of welfare payments any poor family may collect. In effect, the Court has ruled that the Constitution leaves it to the Federal and state governments to establish standards of adequacy and thus decide how much of governmental resources will be allocated to welfare.

The fact that in many states the present application of that doctrine condemns relief families to wretchedly low allowances adds to the urgency of swift Congressional passage of President Nixon's pending welfare reform program. It would put a floor of roughly $2,400 a year in cash and food stamps under the income of the average family of four, and it would provide needed help for the working poor as well as those with no earned income.

The Nixon plan specifies that the minimum family income is to go up by $300 a year for each child, with no maximum limit. While that means that children born into poverty cannot be allowed to starve because of their parents' improvidence, it also means a redoubled necessity for expanded governmental efforts to make birth control information available to welfare mothers.

An improved version of the Administration welfare program has been endorsed by the House Ways and Means Committee and is expected to come up for floor passage this week. Powerful support for the bill's approval has been expressed by two dissimilar sources—the A.F.L.-C.I.O. and the Committee for Economic Development, a group made up predominantly of industrialists and financiers.

The backing of organized labor is significant because unions have traditionally viewed with considerable reserve all proposals for any form of guaranteed minimum income that may involve government subsidy of low wages. The C.E.D. action is also of moment because of the scare campaign mounted against the basic income plan by the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Both A.F.L.-C.I.O. and C.E.D. accurately point out that the plan's chief deficiency is the inadequacy of the minimum standard the Federal program calls for. However, under the tyrannical rules that govern consideration of fiscal matters on the House floor, the Ways and Means report must be adopted or rejected without amendment. On that basis, it is clearly in the national interest that it be passed. The Senate can then make the changes required to turn a good bill into a better one. (The N.Y. Times)

Put-Upon Youth—And So, The Needle

An "official" line on dope is gradually emerging. The spreading use of heroin and other narcotics by young people, it's said, "is a by-product of peer group pressure, a rite of passage being initiated by bad kids who force good kids into a kind of machismo roulette with needles instead of revolvers."

So writes Steven Levine, who is probably the youngest syndicated columnist in the "establishment" press.

But this explanation does not describe any actual condition, he says. All it does is neatly absolve parents, education, government and American culture from responsibility for the situation.

Heroin is a product of despair, says Levine. It became popular in Harlem after World War II, "after a phony renaissance, a depression, a long conflict that was meaningless to most black people, a vicious rioting, gang wars, crowding, chronic unemployment, generalized social disaster."

In a lesser sense, this is becoming the condition of white young in 1970, he claims. They are being ghettoized. Most people have rejected the essential truth that the young had exposed—that America was deeply ill—and they have elected to smother it.

"Kids are out. The press doesn't like them. The administration (don't let the 18-year-old snow you) is out to get them. Their parents don't seem to be trying very hard to understand them any more."

So what the kids are left with, says Levine, are "bad and boring schools, increasingly hostile cops and courts, adolescent depression, parental hassles, no money, no way to get it when it's needed, and added to it all the agonizing frustration of the betrayed. In 1960 Kennedy brought us into the process of world-saving. In 1970 Nixon and his administration throw us back out."

That's some indictment, and don't worry about how accurate it is. Just pass me the needle, baby. I'm tripping out of this scene.

One wonders what young Americans would be doing themselves with if things really were rough in this country—rough, as it is spelled in Hungary or Czechoslovakia, say, where there is real despair and where the betrayal of a better world was brought about not by hostile cops but by hostile tanks parading up the streets, and where no youthful columnist is invited to present his opinion of what's wrong with the system.

There have been no reports of drug use among Iron Curtain youths. Perhaps they simply can't get it, or possibly they are made of tougher stuff than our own young people.

Perhaps what is bugging so many American youths is not so much despair as it is self-indulgence and a puffed-up sense of self-importance—a case of too many kids with too little to do, with too much time on their hands and too many excuses for not using it constructively, of too many things too easily come by and too many people telling them how put-upon they are.

Politicians Assess Impact Of Anti-Carswell Vote

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats Albert Gore of Tennessee and Ralph Yarborough of Texas may get the most heat because of their votes against G. Harold Carswell, but other senators up for re-election this year could feel a warm breeze or two.

This early opinion comes from politicians in several key states and from the senators themselves in the wake of last Wednesday's 51-45 Senate rejection of President Nixon's second try at appointing a Southern judge to the Supreme Court.

"Only time can tell," Gore said Sunday when asked what impact his anti-Carswell vote will have on his effort to win another term.

But he said his decisions against Carswell, and against Clement F. Haynsworth last fall, "were very hurtful to me." Texas politicians believe Yarborough's vote against Carswell definitely will affect his current primary race with Lloyd Bentsen, who supported the nomination.

"Sen. Yarborough should vote for Texas at least once in a while," Bentsen said after Carswell was rejected. "The defeat was a combination of anti-South, ultra-liberal forces that think the Supreme Court is a place to write laws rather than interpret them."

The Democratic primary winner probably will face another Carswell supporter in the general election, Rep. George Bush, a Houston Republican.

In Tennessee, Gore is expected to win the Aug. 6 Democratic primary and most likely will face Rep. William E. Brock in November.

Brock has criticized Gore's support of native Tennessean Abe Fortas, who was forced to resign from the high court under fire last year.

"Thus the senator," says Brock, "staunchly defended the virtues of liberal Justice Abe Fortas only to in turn condemn the 'indiscretion' of Judge Haynsworth and he now votes against Judge Carswell because 'his record looks bad.'"

But one Tennessee politician who backs Gore says the issue will have no effect whatsoever.

"By November, nobody will remember who the hell Carswell was," he said, asking he not be quoted by name.

Of the 35 Senate seats at stake in this year's election, 25 are being defended by Democrats, the rest have Republican incumbents seeking a new term. Among these who could be troubled by the Carswell affair is Winston Prouty, R-Vt., who voted against the nomination.

Prouty faces what promises to be a fierce re-election struggle even though he's a Republican in a predominantly Republican state facing a liberal Democrat.

The Democrat, however, is former Gov. Philip H. Hoff, a 45-year-old Kennedy follower who in 1968 completed an unprecedented three terms in office as the state's first Democratic governor in more than a century.

Hoff fired off some anti-Carswell statements just before the key voting began last week and Prouty reportedly got a release from the administration to vote against Carswell as long as it didn't affect the outcome.

He voted against the nomination Wednesday but the outcome already was clear when the clerk reached his name.

"I don't think that the average voter judges a man on one vote or one issue," said Republican Gov. Deane C. Davis of Vermont, a thought echoed by most other observers who indicated Prouty's position will have no bearing on his re-election campaign at all.

Another state where the Carswell affair could have impact is Pennsylvania, where Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott is up for re-election.

Scott's defection was a key factor in the defeat of Haynsworth. He voted for Carswell but he appeared at times to be reluctant, leaving the GOP leadership chores to others.

Labor and Negro groups carry considerable clout in the swing cities of Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. But Scott's soft approach may neutralize the issue despite the fact potential Democratic opponents have been using it and the state's NAACP leader says "we're not going to let Scott forget."

In North Dakota, Republicans, questioned at a state convention at Grand Forks Thursday, said the Carswell affair could become a factor against Democrat Quentin Burdick's re-election campaign, but not a major one.

Burdick's probable opponent, Congressman Thomas Kleppe, said Burdick's vote against Carswell would be a campaign issue "possibly a big one, depending to some degree on who the President nominates next."

Burdick, however, said if Kleppe mentions it, "I'll just remind him about the 13 moderate Republicans who opposed Carswell and see if he wants to take them on."

Similar views were expressed by other Democratic contenders.

U.S. To Cambodia: Avoid Open War

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Nixon administration has quietly made it clear to Lt. Gen. Lon Nol's new Cambodian government not to expect U.S. ground combat forces. They won't be forthcoming.

This doesn't mean American troops won't pursue Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops withdrawing into Cambodia after operations in South Vietnam. It does mean we are determined not to get involved in Cambodia ground operations with American infantrymen.

The Nixon officials in fact have suggested the new Phnom Penh government move cautiously. They have informed the Cambodians that in the Washington view it would be advisable for them to do everything possible to avoid open war with the North Vietnamese-Viet Cong invaders.

Lon Nol knows the realities. But they have been reviewed for him.

His small, lightly armed armies are no match for the well-equipped Communist forces.

A goodly area of Cambodia is occupied by immigrant North Vietnamese families, capable of supplying intelligence, organizing underground bases, offering recruits and providing rice and fish to the Red troops.

(Already numbers of these Vietnamese families living in Cambodia have been arrested for organizing and participating in antigovernment riots.)

These civilian Vietnamese, estimated at from 300,000 to 600,000 men, women and children, are concentrated in the rural rice- and fish-producing areas of Cambodia.

The Cambodian forces have little experience in guerrilla war. Lon Nol was educated in the French conventional war tradition. Men who have worked with him say he is psychologically committed to conventional fighting. Without guerrilla psychology and guerrilla experience, operations in areas where so many well-organized North Vietnamese immigrants live would seem next to hopeless.

The Nixon officials therefore have told the Cambodian strongman that in our opinion any military attempt to drive out the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese armies by force could well turn Cambodia into another Laos.

Bluntly, an all-out fight with no prospect of American infantrymen would almost certainly insure disaster for the new government.

These thoughts have been transmitted to the Cambodian government through the U.S. embassy at Phnom Penh.

Administration men aren't certain Lon Nol will heed their advice. Men who know him say he's a gung-ho trooper eager to fight the Communists.

In part, the Nixon administration advice to Cambodia is a result of protest pressures here at home. Getting involved in Cambodia at this time would stir domestic critics, destroy the carefully built downside in the war protest movement.

But the administration decision goes deeper. The Nixon men believe Lon Nol has some very strong weapons:

— The first weapon is political. Here is a case of naked North Vietnamese aggression. If kept clear-cut, it can hurt Hanoi deeply in free world and U.S. domestic opinion—on which Ho Chi Minh's successors are depending so deeply for victory in Vietnam. Hanoi cannot be blind to this prospect.

U.S. officials fear the entry of American troops would muddy the issue and thus be self-defeating.

— The second weapon is economic. So long as the Communists are held half in and half out, it will be possible for the Cambodians to cut down sharply on deliveries of domestic rice and fish to the enemy troops and on the import of enemy military weapons and munitions through Sihanoukville.

The more scrambled and murky the situation in Cambodia, the better the chance of enforcing economic sanctions. It is one thing, for example, to decree that no more weapons will come through Sihanoukville for the Communists. To enforce that ruling is quite a different matter. Certainly it cannot be enforced if the North Vietnamese capture the port in battle.

Ann Landers:

Plea For Tolerance

Dear Ann Landers: I am a parent who is sick and tired of reading articles on "How to Get Along with Your Teenager." I wish someone would write an article on "How to Get Along with Your Parents." Here are a few suggestions for openers:

If Mom and Dad are short tempered and unpleasant, try using a few obsolete phrases such as, "What can I do to help?" "Yes, I'd be happy to." Another one is, "Thank you."

When the phone rings or there is a knock at the door, don't play like you are deaf. Get off your duff and see who it is—even though an able-bodied adult is right in the same room.

Offer to do a favor for your old beat-up mother—like hang up your clothes, clean the bathtub after you've used it or straighten up your room.

Be polite. When your parents turn on a Glenn Miller record and start to dance don't fall on the floor laughing. Show some respect. After all, folks in their 40's and 50's don't know better. It's the way they used to dance in the olden days.

This is a plea for tolerance and understanding, kids. Give us old fogies a break. We need it.—1918

Dear 1918: That's my year, too. Thanks for speaking in behalf of us museum pieces. It's high time somebody gave us an assist.

Dear Ann Landers: You have stated many times that you don't believe in lonely hearts clubs and computer matching—and for good reason. But you, Ann Landers, could perform a wonderful service if you would help the lonesome people in this world to find each other.

You could run a very high-type bureau. Each applicant's letter would be carefully considered. They would be required to send character references supplied by employers and clergymen. You might also agree to interview the finalists in your home.

The applicants could be matched according to age, religious affiliations, educational backgrounds, interests, hobbies and so on. For example, a widow with three small children could be matched with a widower with two small children. Get it? Please give this idea serious consideration, Ann.—Seattle

Dear Seattle: All I need is to open a matchmaking bureau in my home and I would be a divorcee with no small children. No husband in his right mind would stand for it.

I'm sure there are many decent people in the world who are lonely and would appreciate an introduction to other decent people who are also lonely, but playing Cupid can be dangerous and I want no part of it.

Dear Ann Landers: A certain girl in our crowd thinks she is you. All of a sudden she remembered her middle name is Ann and she wants everyone to call her that. She gives advice to everybody whether they ask for it or not. She even tries to talk like you but it doesn't come off. She sounds ridiculous.

Last week she started to comb her hair like yours. How do you feel about this? P.S. She is 14 years old.—Port Huron

Dear Port: Plattered.

Law For Today

Q. What particular Illinois laws protect a person who wears eyeglasses from being physically attacked?

A. There are no special laws about passes—friendly or otherwise—made at people who wear glasses. All citizens are constitutionally guaranteed the right "to be secure in their persons." In Illinois there are several specific laws concerning bodily harm, including those against aggravated assault and battery. These laws apply uniformly—regardless of visual corrections. —Illinois State Bar Assn

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Rheumatic Fever Attacks Heart Valves

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.

Q—How does rheumatic fever affect the heart?

A—It attacks the heart valves and leaves the victim with a leaky heart which must become enlarged in its effort to compensate.

Q—Six years ago my daughter, 18, had rheumatic fever. She is still taking Pentabs daily. Will she have to take them for the rest of her life?

A—Some authorities recommend taking antibiotics indefinitely, especially if there has been any damage to the heart. A recent report indicates that a monthly injection of penicillin-G benzathine is preferable to daily treatment.

Q—What is Rendu-Osler-Weber disease? Is there any cure for it?

A—This disease is properly called hereditary hemorrhagic telangiectasia. The latter term means the presence of dilated small blood vessels in the skin and mucous membranes. The disease may start in childhood and slowly progress with age. When bleeding occurs, it is more likely to come from the mucous membranes than the skin.

The only treatment is to control the bleeding when it occurs. Electrocoagulation of the lesions has been tried but it is always followed by fresh lesions nearby.

Q—Can an animal that eats and drinks normally still have or carry rabies? What are the symptoms of rabies in a human being? After the symptoms appear, is there still a chance for a cure?

A—Rabies is transmitted to man only by the bite of an infected animal. Since the animal always dies, there are no normal carriers. The virus does not appear in the animal's saliva until after the onset of symptoms.

In man, the disease starts with fever, headache, nausea and a sore throat. These symptoms are followed by periods of extreme restlessness alternating with periods of profound depression, drooling and pain on attempts to swallow. After symptoms appear, cure is virtually impossible.

Q—What is Purinethol given for? What are its side effects?

A—This drug is given for leukemia and Hodgkin's disease. Excessive doses may cause a destruction of the white blood cells and bleeding.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

WAVERLY SCHOOL PLANS REGISTRATION APRIL 24

WAVERLY—Registration for kindergarten in the Waverly Community Unit District 6 for the year of 1970-71 will be from 1 to 4 p.m. Friday, April 24, in the grade school cafeteria.

The health nurses will give vision and hearing screening tests at this time. Each parent should bring their child's birth certificate, health record and baby book. All children who will be five years old before Dec. 1, 1970, should register for kindergarten.

Mrs. Powers New DAR Regent Of Local Chapter

Mrs. John May, regent, presided at the April 9 meeting of the Rev. James Caldwell chapter. Daughters of the American Revolution. Dessert was served by the hostesses, Mrs. Gordon Hankins, chairman; Mrs. Dwight Thorne and Miss Julia Rhea. Strawberry dessert, nutmeats, mints, tea or coffee were served from a table centered with lovely spring flowers. Mrs. John May and Miss Olive Burnett poured.

Miss Lucille Hageman presented devotions, relating a story of the silver cup used at the Lord's supper, closing with the Lord's Prayer. Miss Lillian Carter led the pledge and accompanied by the singing of the National Anthem. Mrs. Robert Mawson, treasurer, gave the financial report. Mrs. Irving Olson, secretary pro tem, read minutes. Mrs. Florence B. Thorne gave a report on the chapter library and a report on conservation.

A musical program was presented by Mrs. Ben Negus and Mrs. K. Lyle Davis. Vocal selections were "Where Is Love,"

"Shadow of Your Smile" and "April Showers." Mrs. Negus accompanied for the duet.

Mrs. May thanked the chairman and chapter members for their assistance during her term as regent. Installation of newly elected officers was conducted by Mrs. Paul Black.

Installed were Mrs. Albert Powers, regent; Mrs. Elmer Lukeman, second vice regent; chaplain, Mrs. Charles Bowen; recording secretary, Mrs. Irving Olson; Mrs. C. C. Taylor, treasurer; curator, Miss Ruth Dunlap; directors, house chairman Mrs. Clinton Savage, grounds chairman, Mrs. R. I. Willard, Mrs. John May and Miss Lillian Carter.

A gift and corsage from the membership were presented to Mrs. May by Mrs. Lawrence Mallicoat.

Mrs. Albert Powers, incoming regent, made an acceptance speech and closed the meeting with a few remarks of future plans. An executive board meeting will be held Tuesday, April 14, at 10 a.m.

Guests were Mrs. William O'Brien, Mrs. K. L. Davis and Mrs. Ben Negus.

REITHER on Beardstown

By Virgil Reither

BEARDSTOWN — Members of the Cass county board of supervisors consider the township form of government to be endangered by a measure passed by the General Assembly at its last session.

As a result the supervisors, including A. C. (Todd) Schuetter of Beardstown are urging their constituents, at the April 14th Town meetings, passage of resolutions calling on legislators to delay implementation of the bill.

The Town meeting for Beardstown township will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday April 14 in the office of Supervisor Schuetter.

He says that the people of Illinois are on the verge of some "far reaching changes in county government that are bound to increase property taxes."

"You must act now and demand delay," Schuetter declares.

Schuetter is urging passing of a resolution calling on the state General Assembly to not implement the bill, and also is urging all voters to "write your state representative and state senator demanding that they support action to retain township government."

Parking Ban
City police have patrolled the area in front of the post office the past few days to prevent parking in front of the office on the wrong side of the street.

The chief of police says there have been some near accidents as a result of the parking errors, and proposes to enforce the law in this regard.

Potpourri: Mrs. Verna Powell took 25 members of her third grade class through the Post Office Thursday and they got the feel of what happens to a letter from the time it is written through its delivery—the "kids" all knew the Beardstown Zip Code, the postage rate etc. and asked some questions indicating they had a deep interest in the mails.

—O—
Fireman Carl Wessel, a veteran member of the local department, says so many cars follow the fire truck after the siren sounds that it is sometimes almost impossible for firemen to get to the scene without hazard to life and limb. This has been a Beardstown problem for at least 40 years, and never seems to lessen.

—O—
Miss Lillie Mohlman celebrated her 90th birthday April 4 at Elmwood Manor and not at the Myers Nursing home as stated in this column. Sorry!

Kenny DeSollar, local photographer, and his family have moved to their new home, 1001 West Sixth street and he has made progress on his new studio facilities, much roomier and better equipped than at the "old" place on East Seventh street.

Postmasters of Region 4, National Association of Postmasters, gathered at the Blackhawk restaurant in Jacksonville Friday night for their meeting. The region is contiguous with the old 20th congressional district and includes Cass county. Ernie Bickhaus, Quincy postmaster, is the head man.

CARROLL LOGUE OF CHANDLERVILLE IN GERMANY

CHANDLERVILLE — S. S. Carroll Logue left March 24 from Springfield for New York and from there to Germany, where he is to be stationed for two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blair were Jacksonville shoppers Friday, April 10.

Several from here attended the E. A. Zorn household sale at 226 S. Plum street in Havana Saturday. Mr. Zorn is moving back to Chandlerville and will make his home in the Roland Toland trailer homes in the north part of town.

Mrs. Howard Johnson and daughter, Janna, visited Friday afternoon with her father, Gaston Foote, in Jacksonville.

Miss Jessie Nickelson and Miss Diane Pherigo left Friday to spend the weekend in Normal visiting Edean Leinberger and Nanette Pherigo, who are students at Illinois State University in Normal.

Mrs. Eugene Vaughn and son, Roland, were Jacksonville callers Monday morning.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Today is Wednesday, April 15, the 105th day of 1970. There are 260 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1865, President Abraham Lincoln died in a Washington boarding house across the street from Ford's Theater, where he had been shot the night before by John Wilkes Booth.

In 1683, English settlers arrived at New Haven, Conn.

In 1850, San Francisco was incorporated as a city.

In 1923, insulin, which had been discovered by a Toronto, Ont., doctor was made available for general use.

In 1940, during World War II, British and French troops landed on the Norwegian coast.

In 1942, Japanese artillery blasted American positions on Corregidor in the Philippines.

In 1959, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro arrived in Washington to begin a goodwill tour of the United States.

Ten years ago: Asian and African nations were protesting against French nuclear testing in the Sahara Desert.

Five years ago: It was announced that the U.S. Peace Corps would halt all operations in Indonesia.

One year ago: Italian police broke up prison riots in Milan and Turin.

Franklin Pierce was the only U.S. president to retain the same cabinet for four years without any changes.

YOUR BIRTHDAY and HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 15 —

Born today, you may well have to go through difficult times in your life—but they will never be so difficult that you do not look forward to better times. Even when things are at their worst, you will always be able to console yourself with times that were and times that are to be—both of which are encouraging. In this sense, you are an optimist, ever able to pick yourself up off the ground and go forward seeking—and sure you will find—bigger and better things.

You enjoy travel immensely and may well spend a good part of your adult life on the go away from home. You will, however, always maintain close contact with home base, for you are not one to be happy with all ties to home broken. You need to know that loved ones wait for you, that a comfortable home and eager friends await your return; for you are not by nature a wanderer. You feel you can travel without becoming the proverbial rolling stone.

You have great admiration for those who are able to lead others. You are not yourself a leader by nature, but your instinct is, on the other hand, quite against being a follower. You will have to develop an ability to be out in front, taking responsibility, accepting blame and praise; otherwise, you will certainly not be happy in group enterprises.

To find what is in store for you tomorrow, select your birthday and read the corresponding

Thursday, April 16
ARIES (March 22-April 20)—An excellent opportunity for you to display your musical talents—or to proclaim publicly that you have none!

TAURUS (April 21-May 21)—A day when you may well discover that a little knowledge is a dangerous thing. Try to keep your opinion to yourself—unless you're sure.

GEMINI (May 22-June 21)—Make every effort to at least appear to be congenial with co-workers. Keep unfriendly feelings to yourself.

CANCER (June 22-July 23)—Domestic chores call for your attention at this time. Afternoon hours are yours to do with as you please; give morning or evening to home.

LEO (July 24-Aug. 23)—Take care that you don't behave badly this morning. Friends may wish you well even though they appear to be discouraging you.

VIRGO (Aug. 24-Sept. 23)—Don't be lured by the forbidden. It may well prove not to have been as sweet as you hoped. Be guided by your conscience.

LIBRA (Sept. 24-Oct. 23)—Don't allow your need for security to discourage you from making a change. Career advances are in store.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)—Critical days for the Scorpio with social obligations to keep. Don't allow others to talk you out of your plans to entertain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 22)—Accept a challenge to move ahead in your career. A period of crisis today can enable you to show your worth to higher-ups.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)—What bothers you today may be just the things that make tomorrow a day to remember. Accept new responsibilities.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21-Feb. 19)—Loved ones may have a surprisingly stable influence upon you at this time. Take care not to tax another's patience.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 21)—Take care that you don't cause a rift in your relationship with a friend of long standing. Keep your temper.

Impeach Douglas Plan Launched

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford says an article published in a controversial magazine by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas removes all doubt about the need for impeaching him.

Ford, who has conducted an investigation of the 71-year-old Douglas for about seven months, said he plans to outline the results of his probe in a House speech Wednesday.

He said publication of the article, a condensation of Douglas' book "Points of Rebellion," in Evergreen magazine "was the straw that broke the camel's back."

"If there ever was any doubt about the need for impeachment proceedings against Justice Douglas they were eliminated by publication of the April issue of Evergreen," the GOP Leader said.

After Ford makes his speech, Reps. Louis C. Wyman, R-N.H., Joe Waggonner Jr., D-La., and others plan to introduce a resolution calling for creation of a special committee to investigate possible impeachment of Douglas.

Ford said to avoid any partisan tinge he would not join in sponsoring the resolution, but added he would personally vote to impeach Douglas.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said the timing of the resolution—coming on the heels of the Senate rejection of the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell—smacks of political retaliation.

But Ford and others denied that politics had anything to do with it.

Ford, Wyman and Waggonner declined to delve into specific cases at a news conference, but they said the resolution will have the backing from both parties.

"This is judicial misbehavior," Wyman said. Pointing to the article, he said, "this is conduct which establishes a sitting justice as a partisan."

Ford displayed a copy of the magazine containing photos of Douglas, including a naked couple. He called it shocking.

The resolution calls for the special panel to submit its report in 90 days.

If created as proposed, the committee would conduct hearings and be armed with subpoena power. The resolution, itself, would be referred to the House Rules Committee and, if cleared by that unit, would be subject to a House vote. There were reports the sponsors envision a five-member panel, with three Democrats and two Republicans.

Douglas, who has served on the court since 1959, was criticized last year over his role as president of the Albert Parvin Foundation which received considerable income from Las Vegas gambling enterprises. Douglas resigned from the foundation last May.

The more recent criticism of the jurist has been directed toward his book in which Douglas wrote that "growing rightist tendencies" in America threaten to make man an automaton.

The Constitution sets forth that should the House vote impeachment by majority ballot, then the Senate would try the individual with a two-thirds margin required to convict. There is no appeal from the Senate verdict.

In Kansas City Monday night, Douglas refused to talk about the matter. He addressed about 1,000 persons at the University

Ernest Gay Of Pike Dies, Rites Saturday

GRIGGSVILLE — Ernest H. Gay, 75, of Griggsville, a retired life insurance agent, died at 2 p.m. Sunday at Southside hospital in Mesa, Arizona.

He was born on December 22, 1894, in Rockport, son of William Henry and Hattie Hubbard Gay. He married Gertrude Haines on October 12, 1921, in St. Louis.

His wife survives with a daughter, Mrs. Richard (Patricia) Diemer of Northbrook, Illinois, and a son, Captain William W. Gay of the U.S. Navy in Silver Springs, Maryland.

There are five grandchildren. Two sisters, Mrs. Grace Vandoren of Tuscola and Mrs. Lettie Carson of Millertown, New York, also survive.

Mr. Gay was a member of the Masonic Lodge for fifty years and presently a member of the Griggsville Lodge No. 45 AF and AM, a World War One veteran, member of the Griggsville American Legion Post 213, past member and treasurer of Western Illinois Fair Board, Past president of the Griggsville Memorial Association, past chairman of the Griggsville chapter of the Red Cross.

Friends may call after 3 p.m. Friday and Saturday until time of services at Skinner Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the funeral home with Rev. Garrett M. Clanton and Rev. Lloyd Vinneke officiating. Interment will be in Taylor cemetery in Rockport.

The family suggests that memorials be given to the American Cancer Fund.

Apollo

expendable supplies. The abbreviated flight will end some 300 miles south southeast of Samoa in the Pacific, an area flirting with a budding tropical storm.

The rocket firing gave them a ten hour saving.

That means a ten hour saving in water, oxygen and electrical usage. They are still surviving on the life system of the little moon lander Aquarius in which Lovell and Haise were to explore the lunar highlands.

But that hope blew up Monday night on the ruptured oxygen tank and the failure of the fuel cells. One of the Apollo 13 astronauts was heard to say Tuesday, "I'm afraid this is going to be the last moon mission for a long time."

Space officials were not so sure, however, that Apollo 13's problems would delay future flights.

It is more important to bring the men home safely, officials said. They have created a high-level committee to meet every eight hours and review the flight's immediate past and future.

There is a small chance of trouble on Friday. Although the weather forecast in the recovery area is currently good, there is the building and ominous shadow of tropical storm Helen nearby, 40 knot winds at her heart.

The mission achieved its only scientific accomplishment Tuesday amid all its trouble. The third stage of the mighty Saturn 5 rocket slammed into the lunar surface with the force of 11 tons of TNT and shook the seismometer left there by Apollo 12.

The experiment was designed to tell scientists something more about the structure of the moon's interior.

Told of the impact, Lovell said tightly, "Well, at least something worked on this flight."

Crewmate Haise added from the little lunar lander, "I'm glad we didn't have a LM (lunar module) impact, too."

The engines of the moon lander, docked nose to nose with the command ship, were the only power plants available to maneuver Apollo 13. The descent engine was fired for about four minutes to add 500 miles per hour to the spacecraft's speed, and tighten its aim on the earth three days away.

In their two-chamber space dwelling, the astronauts were trying to stay as quiet as possible to conserve oxygen, and lights were kept dimmed to save electricity. Most electronic systems were shut down to reduce heat and thus conserve water. "Jimmy and Jack are in the upstairs bedroom taking a nap," Haise reported from Aquarius.

"I didn't know there was any upstairs," Mission Control kidded back.

Officials said the astronauts had enough oxygen, water and power, but just "barely" enough to survive the problems that started with an eruption in pressurized fuel tanks Monday night.

The crippled craft, officials said, has a water supply that will last about 12 hours longer than it will take to get the men home. It has electrical power to last about 28 hours longer and oxygen to last about 50 hours longer than the homeward voyage.

Water, as much as oxygen, was the key to survival. And water was in the shortest supply. It is the prime coolant in the spacecraft. It alone keeps the cabin air temperature livable. It alone cools the closely packed electronic systems that would otherwise overheat and break down.

To conserve water the astronauts were ordered to cut off as many of the electrical systems as possible. To conserve oxygen they were told to move around as little as possible to keep breathing at a lower rate.

The astronauts must keep their command ship docked to Aquarius until only minutes before plunging into the earth's atmosphere on Friday. Then they'll jettison the small craft and ride to earth breathing only the oxygen left in the cabin of the command ship.

The White House was in "direct and immediate communication" with the space center. Space agency chief Thomas O. Paine flew to Houston from Washington to act as the link between the technicians at the center and the President. The President was said to be impressed with the poise and composure of the three astronauts.

A spokesman said he felt "this efficiency and coolness" was the best hope for a safe return. Nixon got a briefing on the Apollo situation later Tuesday at the Goddard Space Center in Greenbelt, Md.

Odyssey, a sister ship to the command modules which four times previously have carried man to moon orbit and back, was disabled suddenly and without warning Monday night.

Astronauts Lovell, Haise and Swigert had just completed a routine telecast from space when power suddenly dropped. Gas began venting uncontrollably into space and the ship gy- rated.

"Hey, we've got a problem here," said Lovell, and the most perilous hours in the American space program had begun.

The Apollo 13 commander, a veteran of three previous spaceflights, said the spacecraft experienced a "bang," followed by caution and warning lights. He said gas was venting into space and oxygen readings on one tank fell steadily to zero.

The precise cause of the problem remained a mystery. Theories ranged from a collision with a meteorite to an explosion of undetermined origin. Whether the cause ever could be known with certainty remained in doubt since the service module where it occurred will have to be left in space.

When alerted by Lovell, Mission Control immediately began reading instructions to the spacecraft and, within minutes, flight controllers made the chilling announcement.

The command ship had only 15 minutes of electrical power left.

The astronauts quickly opened the tunnel through the nose of the command ship into the attached moon lander. They began siphoning oxygen from the small ship, which until the emergency was destined to make man's third moon landing Wednesday night.

Within hours, officials announced that the situation, though still critical, was stabilized and that the astronauts would attempt to limp home on the limited supplies from the lunar lander.

After trouble struck, Apollo 13 was thrown at one point into wild gyrations by the venting of gas from the ruptured oxygen tank. It took almost half an hour to bring the spacecraft fully under control.

Christopher C. Kraft, deputy director of the space center and long-time flight director, said then, "If the situation remains stabilized there is no question that we can bring them back to earth safely."

In Houston the astronauts families spent a long night and day following the struggle the astronauts waged to return safely. From inside the homes of Lovell and Haise the report was, "The atmosphere is tense. Everyone is listening to the squawk box and watching television."

Lovell has four children. Haise has three and Mrs. Haise is expecting the fourth in June. The families had gathered to see the second telecast of Apollo 13 from space, but cheerfulness turned to shock and disappointment when trouble came.

Friends and clergy rushed to the astronauts' homes. Cars were parked solidly for two blocks in each direction from the Lovell house.

Offers of help came from all over. Britain put its navy at the disposal of any rescue operation. France alerted its fleet to a state of readiness for the recovery. Brazil alerted its ships and planes to stand by in case a rescue was mounted off her shores. Britain's huge Jodrell Bank telescope tracked Apollo 13, following the faint signal of the moon craft, Aquarius.

The astronauts fired Aquarius' descent engine for 30 seconds early Tuesday to put them on a course that eventually would bring them home, but first would take them on the arc around the moon.

Officials said it was safer and cheaper in terms of power for the ship to loop the moon in that fashion rather than try to turn around and head straight back to earth. The effect of lunar gravity would help whip the spacemen home.

Without that Aquarius rocket engine, Lovell, Haise and Swigert would have been lost forever in space.

But there still will be some harried moments before the reentry of Apollo 13 and splashdown in the Pacific. Some time before reentry, the pilots will have to crawl back into the disabled command module to jettison the moon-lander. Using batteries stored in the command module, they must position the ship for reentry into the earth's atmosphere.

There are an estimated 35 hours of electrical power left in the command ship's batteries.

Splashdown is aimed for a spot some 300 miles south-southwest of Samoa and 800 miles northeast of New Zealand, not too far from the landing area for the pioneering Apollo 11 last July.

BILL HENRY, COLUMNIST, DIES
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bill Henry, 79, political columnist and veteran radio newscaster and television commentator, died Monday at a hospital.

Henry, whose column, "By the Way," ran 30 years in the Los Angeles Times, was to have received the nation's highest civil award, the Medal of Freedom, from President Nixon on April 22.

A veteran radio newscaster and television commentator, he served at various times with three major networks.

Delay Release Of Kennedy Case Transcript

BOSTON (AP) — Public release of the secret court record of the Mary Jo Kopechne inquest was delayed Tuesday in a dispute over who is to distribute it.

It was to have been issued Wednesday morning, but U.S. District Judge Andrew A. Caffrey ordered Clerk Edward V. Keating of the Suffolk Superior Court not to distribute copies as planned.

The order was issued on petition of a professional court stenographer, Sidney R. Lipman, who insists he alone has the right to reproduce and sell copies of the transcript.

There was no word as to when Judge Caffrey would take his next step.

Miss Kopechne was killed last July in an automobile driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy.

Lipman was denied his bid in state courts, so he appealed to Caffrey to argue that he would lose his property rights if Keating distributed copies.

Medina Trial Begins On My Lai Charges
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Capt. Ernest L. Medina emerged grim-faced and tight-lipped Tuesday from the first formal hearing on murder charges against him in connection with the alleged 1968 massacre at My Lai.

Medina hurriedly left the building at Ft. McPherson where the hearing was held, about two hours and 15 minutes after he entered. He declined comment to newsmen.

"No, I don't have any comment. For any statement contact the law office of Mr. F. Lee Bailey in Boston or Mr. Wayne Smith in Washington," the infantry officer said, walking briskly to his waiting car.

Shortly afterward, an Army spokesman announced that the hearing had been recessed until April 28. Medina is scheduled to appear again at that time.

Medina, 33, of Pico Rivera, Calif., was commander of an infantry company which participated in the raid on My Lai.

He is charged with murder in connection with all civilian slayings which allegedly occurred during the attack on the Vietnamese village.

'Vietnam Bill' Submitted To Illinois House
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Rep. Robert Mann, D-Chicago, yesterday submitted a bill before the Illinois House which could provide the legal foundation for a state challenge of the constitutionality of the undeclared Vietnam War.

Mann said in a news conference that his bill is patterned after a Massachusetts bill which has been signed into law by the governor of that state. Mann said he has been informed that similar bills have been or will be introduced in other states including New York, California and Ohio.

If passed and signed into law, the bill would prohibit an "inhabitant of the state of Illinois in the military forces of the United States from serving in armed hostilities overseas without a declaration of war by Congress."

The bill would authorize the Illinois attorney general to "appropriate action in the Supreme Court of the United States or in a lower federal court to enforce such prohibition."

The war being waged by the United States in Vietnam has never been declared by act of Congress.

Asked if he expected a Republican governor — Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie — to sign a bill if it passed the legislature, Mann said, "A Republican governor signed the bill in Massachusetts."

"If Illinois passes the bill, it would ensure that servicemen from two major states could be represented as parties in the constitutional test."

"If Illinois passes the bill, the Supreme Court would in all likelihood agree to hear a test case."

"The protests have dramatized this most oppressive and unjust war, but they have not stopped it. A favorable Supreme Court decision could end the war. In addition, the President could hardly ignore the political meaning of passage of the bill in the state of Illinois," Mann said.

Mann stressed that the bill not be considered as an invitation for young men to seek evasion of the military draft. "We do not seek to obstruct federal law, only align ourselves with a constitutional requirement."

Soviet A-Sub Lost At Sea

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Soviet nuclear attack submarine, perhaps with as many as 88 crewmen aboard, apparently has been lost in Atlantic waters 400 miles northwest of the Spanish coast.

The word came Monday from the Defense Department, which reported that American planes observed at least some of the drama of the high seas incident before the submarine disappeared last weekend.

The 3,500-ton vessel, one of a class of hunter-killer submarines capable of tailing American ships, was seen in distress Friday and Saturday, then vanished Sunday—with two oil slicks remaining.

No one actually saw her go down but Navy antisubmarine patrol planes had watched over the weekend as two Soviet surface ships attempted unsuccessfully to tie a towline to the sub in rough seas.

At one point Soviet crewmen stood on the deck of the sur-

J. Livingston Of Virginia Dies Tuesday

Jesse Livingston, 84, of Virginia died at 6 a.m. Tuesday at Passavant hospital. He was born May 16, 1885, in Cass county, the son of George and Emma Blohm Livingston. He married Alice Looker, who died in 1968.

Surviving are brothers, Tom Livingston of Virginia and Otto Livingston of Beardstown. There are several nieces and nephews.

Friends may call at the Massie Funeral Home in Virginia from 3 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home.

Interment will be in the Walnut Ridge cemetery.

Decide Board Seat By Lottery In Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — A seat on the school board for Community District Unit 15 here will be decided by lottery Thursday night.

A tie vote between Don Sloan and Howard Icenogle in Saturday's election will be canvassed at the meeting Thursday, but the board will be bound by the declaration of election judges who held the vote between the two was tied at 472 each.

One man was chosen—H. A. (Andy) Taylor, the board secretary, was re-elected, getting 512 votes.

Taylor said that although the board must canvass the vote it is legally bound to accept the tie decision of election judges. He said he probably would toss a coin as the lottery method.

Total vote in the election was more than 800.

The terms of Taylor and Robert Gillenwater expired, but Gillenwater did not seek re-election.

Kills Trucker Responsible For Son's Death

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Police say Eugene Friedman shot and killed a truck driver he held responsible for the traffic accident death of his young son last September.

Lou T. Watts, 37, the driver, fell dead under a fusillade of pistol fire Monday outside the Municipal Court building.

Friedman, a 43-year-old employee of the Los Angeles County Real Estate Management Department, had been seeking for months to have Watts prosecuted for the death of the boy who was struck while bicycling.

Ethan, 10, was Friedman's only child.

The district attorney said there was no evidence to justify a prosecution. Friedman hire, a private investigator, whose report failed to alter the situation.

Watts told investigators the boy had swerved suddenly and he couldn't avoid him.

Later, police said, Watts was found to have four driving licenses obtained by giving false information.

On March 9 police arrested Watts for investigation of driving with a revoked license.

Police said Friedman was at Municipal Court when the case came up Monday, talked with Watts briefly outside the building, then began firing an automatic pistol at him.

Pilot Benefit Rummage Sale This Weekend

The Pilot Club of Jacksonville held a business meeting April 8 at Hamilton's with Mrs. Milton Stout presiding. Invocation by chaplain Miss Dorothy Lukeman was followed by the pledge of allegiance.

Coordinating chairman Mrs. Reid Lasley initiated Pilot's new member, Mrs. Elva Duncan, a teacher at Pathway school. Mrs. Arthur Samore gave the Pilot Code of Ethics. Miss Josephine Milligan, who spent the winter in Mexico, and her companion, Miss Tona Romo Cortez, a native of Mexico, attended the meeting.

Mrs. Stout reported on the joint dinner program held April 7 in the Gamble Lounge dining room on MacMurray campus for the three classified service clubs for business and professional women. The Altrusa club of Jacksonville hosted the delightful event. The speaker, Mrs. C. L. Kanatkar told of a woman's "Look into Russia."

The tables were beautifully decorated in the Altrusa's colors, blue and white. Pilots attending this were Mrs. Milton Stout, president; Mrs. Reid Lasley, Miss Margaret Riley, Mrs. Arthur Samore, Mrs. Jean Spencer and Mrs. Marion Thorn.

Mrs. Edward Morrison, chairman of the finance committee, urged all members to have rummage ready for the rummage sale Friday evening, April 17, and Saturday morning, April 18.

The District 12 Governor's Bulletin gave final arrangements for the District 12 Convention to be held April 24-26, at the Hotel St. Paul, St. Paul, Minnesota. Mrs. C. Y. Rowe will be chairman of the district auditing committee, and Mrs. Arthur Samore will serve as the convention parliamentarian.

Delegates representing the local club will be president-elect Mrs. Reid Lasley, Mrs. Mildred Hill and Mrs. Marion Thorn.

The gift for Meals for Millions was won by Mrs. Lorraine Huber.

The April 22 program meeting will be "Wigs and Cosmetics." The finance committee, Mrs. Edward Morrison, chairman, will plan the evening's activities.

FORMER CHAPIN MAN'S FATHER DIES IN CHICAGO

CHAPIN — Relatives here have learned of the death on Monday of George Lewis, 74, of Chicago. The deceased was the father of Robert Lewis of Pawnee, formerly of Chapin. Mrs. Robert Lewis is the former Phyllis McDannald of Chapin.

Funeral services for Mr. Lewis will be in Chicago on Wednesday.

MUHAMMAD ALI may never have been knocked down in the boxing ring, but he was spilled quickly in his first attempt at skiing at Mount Snow, Vermont. Ski instructor Bob Gratton helps him up.

WHITE HALL PARK TO SPORT CITY TOWER, BELFRY

WHITE HALL — The City Council met, during the week and voted to donate the old city hall tower and belfry to the local Lions club. This will be placed in the Lions Park on West Carlinville st.

The group voted to sponsor the Black Knights for the Lions club parade in July and to accept a contract from General Telephone Company for a fire phone system. They approved the department officers, with the exception of naming a chief, and accepted a bid from Warren's TV for installation of a tower on the new City Hall.

Nellie Leib Of Exeter Dies

BLUFFS — Mrs. Nellie Leib of Exeter, wife of Estel Leib, died at 6:10 p.m. at Illini hospital in Pittsfield. Although she had been in failing health, death was unexpected.

Mrs. Leib was born Nellie Sandman south of Bluffs Nov. 22, 1891, daughter of Richard and Belle Sandman. She married Mr. Leib Dec. 23, 1917. He survives with a daughter, Mary Belle Wade of rural Pittsfield. There are three grandchildren and six great grandchildren. A son, Richard, preceded his mother in death. Mrs. Leib was the last of her family.

The remains are at the Bates Funeral Home in Bluffs, where friends may call after 1 p.m. Wednesday. The family will meet friends that evening 7 to 9 p.m.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home with Rev. Dean Beard officiating. Interment will be in Exeter cemetery.

MANCHESTER DORCAS CLASS AT BOSTON HOME

MANCHESTER—The Dorcas class of the Baptist church met Friday, April 10, at the home of Mrs. Cecil Boston. The president, Mrs. Boston, conducted the business. Refreshments were served.

THEFT REPORTED

Westgate Cafe reported several subjects left the business at 2:13 a.m. Tuesday without paying for their food. They also reported that several plates and cups were also taken in the process. City police are investigating the incident.

Local League Petitions For Washingtonians

Members of the Morgan County League of Women Voters are collecting petition signatures as part of a nationwide drive to win Congressional representation for the 800,000 residents of Washington, D.C. This and other topics will be discussed at the annual dinner meeting of the LWV of Morgan County Thursday evening, April 16, at Hamilton's restaurant.

Maseru, a tiny African country, exported a record 29,787.51 carats of diamonds worth $1,600,903, in 1969, the government announced.

All petitions, with as many signatures as have been obtained, should be returned to Mrs. Decker by April 20.

These, with petitions being collected from all over the country, will be formally presented to Congress during the League of Women Voters National Convention in Washington, D.C., May 4-8, according to Mrs. M.J. Franseen, president of the Morgan County LWV. Mrs. Franseen and Mrs. J. P. Smith will represent the local League at the convention.

Two slogans, "Washington, D.C., The Last Colony" and "Taxation without Representation Is Wrong," are being used by national, state, and local Leagues to highlight the campaign. Since Washington, D.C., is governed by the Congress, lack of representation deprives D.C. residents of a voice in setting local taxes they must pay and in expressing their views on national and foreign policy.

Representation in Congress for the District of Columbia will require the passage of a constitutional amendment by a two-thirds vote of both houses.

Add up to $400.00-A-MONTH to your health protection for only 25¢

(TO ENROLL
ENTIRE FAMILY
FIRST MONTH)

ACT NOW — YOU MUST MAIL ENROLLMENT FORM BELOW BY MIDNIGHT, THURS., APRIL 23, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

Here are the questions you'd normally ask your insurance man. But we answered them instead . . . so you would be able to insure yourself, right from this page. (You'll be amazed how much it saves you.)

1 When can I collect up to $400.00 A MONTH?
Every time you are confined to the hospital you collect $400.00 a month. You are covered from the very first day for accidents, the fourth day for sickness, even for life, if necessary. And you collect cash not just for yourself but for every Covered Member of your family.

2 How can I collect extra cash—if I'm 65 or over?
If you are 65 or over, we pay you $200.00-a-month extra cash for the first 3 months and $400.00 monthly while continuously hospitalized afterwards, in addition to Medicare benefits. This is extra. You collect for each illness or injury—each time you go to the hospital.

3 When do I collect up to $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?
We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if it happens as long as 90 days after the accident. This is all extra money. You collect it on top of any other benefits we pay you. Not just for yourself but for every Covered Member of your family!

4 What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?
Don't worry. You still collect $400.00 a month and if you've already resumed full normal activities for just 90 days — we call it a "new confinement". Which means you can collect all over again, even for life, if necessary.

5 If I already have some health insurance—will you pay me anyway?
Of course! Never mind what you collect from Blue Cross, Blue Shield, or Workmen's Compensation, or any insurance you may have with other companies. (Even for the same illness!) We still pay you $400.00-a-month extra cash income. So if other insurance has taken care of some—or even all—of your medical bills . . . you still have that extra cash income from National Home.

6 Why do I need this Plan in addition to other hospital and health insurance?
While hospital costs have more than doubled in recent years, few people have doubled their insurance. If your other hospitalization policies are more than two years old, you have already lost 1/2 of the benefits DUE TO SKYROCKETING MEDICAL COSTS!

7 Do you pay me cash when my children go to the hospital?
Yes! When you have Coverage for Children you receive $240.00-a-month for each dependent child between the ages of 1 month through 18 years. Coverage for accidents begins on the first day — sickness on the fourth day.

8 Will future children be protected, too?
They surely will! And at no extra cost. When you have Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits), newborn children are automatically covered as soon as they are one month old.

9 Will you pay me $400.00-a-month cash—even for maternity care?
Yes, even when pregnancy requires hospitalization. Many health plans DON'T cover maternity expense. But under this Plan with Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you collect $400.00-a-month for each pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents must be enrolled in this Plan for the entire pregnancy.)

10 Does this Plan pay for a Registered Nurse at home?
Yes, in addition to the $400.00-a-month cash we send you for your hospital stay, we pay you an extra $400.00 a month if the doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse to take care of you at home.

How comforting it is to know that —after your stay in the hospital, if you've been there five days or more—you can return home to recuperate and yet not be a burden to your loved ones. Yes, if your doctor has you employ a full-time Registered Nurse within 5 days after you come home, we'll pay you $400.00 a month. And your benefits continue for the same number of days (for which benefits were payable) for which you were hospitalized —up to 12 full months.

11 Are there times I might collect as much as $1,600.00 A MONTH?

Yes, there are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you but for every Covered Member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once . . . or even both of you more than once . . . or if a child gets sick or has an accident — you could end up collecting $10,000.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. This National Health Plan gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are in an accident and both of you have to go to the hospital at the same time, National Home pays double cash amounts. You collect not $400.00 but $800.00 a month. Your spouse collects not $400.00 but $800.00 a month. That's $1,600.00 a month (when under age 65). Yes, $1,600.00 you can count on month after month—for as long as both of you remain in the hospital . . . even for life, if necessary.

12 Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please?
Certainly! You can even put them in

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

MEDICAL CARE COSTS rose in September, 1969, to 157.6% of the 1957-59 average from 156.8% a month earlier. These costs are components of the Government consumer price index.

the bank to replace savings spent while you were laid up in the hospital without income. It's your money — and all the cash comes direct to you, not to the doctor or hospital. (Unless, of course, you ask us to.)

13 What do others have to say about National Home?

"Received your check for $880.00. I appreciate having the money sent directly to me so I could decide how to use it."

NICHOLAS CRISTL, Green Bay, Wisc.

"It was wonderful to receive your check for $555.00. I'm very pleased. It paid real well."

Mrs. BESSIE GEISINGER, Kansas City, Mo.

"Everyone should have your coverage. I know I wouldn't be without it."

WALTER TUCKER, Fayetteville, N.C.

14 Can I stop paying premiums during an extra long hospitalization—yet still remain fully covered?

Should you—the person to whom the basic Policy is issued—be hospitalized for 8 consecutive weeks or more, this National Health Plan will pay all premiums that come due for you and all Covered Members of your family while you are confined to the hospital beyond the initial 8-week period. And your protection continues just the same as if you were paying the premiums yourself.

15 How can you give me so much—for so little?

Because you deal direct with the company—direct with National Home itself! No middleman needed! Costly "processing charges" are eliminated. So is "red tape". You handle each simple step yourself—in your own home . . . in your own good time . . . by making up your own mind. And of course, dealing by mail is confidential. No one need know your personal affairs — except you!

16 Doesn't enrolling by mail take away the "personal" touch?

Certainly not! We give you more personal service, not less. But instead of getting it when you sign up—YOU GET IT WHEN YOU HAVE A CLAIM! That's where it really means something. And that's where National Home gives you plenty of service.

17 All right, now that you mention it—how do I go about submitting a claim?

As a National Home policyowner, you're entitled to contact FAST CLAIM HEADQUARTERS direct. No frantic attempts to locate your broker. No anxious waiting. If you have a claim for illness or injury, don't hesitate—CONTACT US DIRECT! Even if you only have a question! Don't worry about "inconveniencing" or "annoying" anyone. WE ARE ALWAYS READY AND

HAPPY TO GIVE YOU THE PROMPT, COURTEOUS AND DIRECT ATTENTION YOU ARE ENTITLED TO AS OUR POLICYOWNER!

18 How else do you save me money by cutting "red tape"?

No lengthy, complicated applications or embarrassing personal "investigations"! The short Enrollment Form on this page tells us all we need to know. Notice it doesn't ask for a medical examination. Or set an age limit. (As long as you have not been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance for reasons of health, we don't care if you're over 100!) Most important, we enroll many persons at the same time. Not one Policy at a time, the old-fashioned way, but thousands at once—using all the economies of mass printing and latest computer techniques. That's how we can give you so much for only 25¢.

19 Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my Policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your Policy pays during hospital confinement for EVERYTHING except conditions caused by: act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for two years. Everything else is definitely covered. The last item, by the way, is a real help if you already have a health problem. It means that even if you were sick before you took out this Policy—you will be covered for any recurrences of that condition after the Policy has been in effect for only two years.

20 If I'm hospitalized less than a month—do you still pay cash benefits?

Of course we do! Your coverage begins on the first day you're hospitalized for an accident, on the fourth day for an illness, even if you're confined for only one week.

21 Does this Plan pay in any hospital?

You are covered for care in the hospital of your choice except, of course, a U.S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility.

22 When do I start collecting $400.00-a-month tax-free cash?

You start collecting $400.00 a month TAX-FREE cash for accidents from the very first day in the hospital and for sickness, from the fourth day in the hospital.

23 Will my protection be cancelled for any reason?

No—positively not! Only you can cancel! This National Health Plan is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE! That means regardless of how much or how often you collect . . . or how old you become . . . we can never cancel your valuable protection.

24 Why do I need this $400.00-a-month cash protection?

Because U.S. Government figures show that in the past few years alone . . . medical costs have DOUBLED! Yet few people have anywhere near enough protection to meet these soaring doctor and hospital bills. How much would a long hospital stay cost you? Or a loved one? How would you ever pay for costly X-rays, doctor bills, medicines and drugs not covered by your present insurance? Would you be able to afford the quiet and dignity of a private room and a private nurse? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones. Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? And who would pay for rent, food, clothing and household expenses—all the non-medical bills that keep coming in at home even though you are in the hospital without an income? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet runaway hospital and medical costs. And no one knows whose turn it will be next—yours or mine. But we both know that once the doctor says you have to enter the hospital, it is too late to buy coverage at any price. That's why this protection was designed to give you the "extra help" you need — when you need it.

25 When may I enroll in this National Health Plan?

The question is not "when may" but "when must" — YOU ABSOLUTELY MUST ENROLL BY THE DATE SHOWN ON THE ENROLLMENT FORM ON THIS PAGE. YOUR 25¢ AND COMPLETED FORM MUST BE POST-MARKED NO LATER THAN THAT DATE OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED.

26 When will my Policy arrive?

Right away! We mail your Policy as soon as we accept your Enrollment Form and 25¢. Examine it in the privacy of your own home. It's a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover — THERE IS NO "FINE PRINT"! If you wish, show it to someone you trust—perhaps your lawyer, accountant or banker. Better still, show it to your own insurance man—even though he may be working for another insurance company. If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests in mind. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere — at any price.

27 What if I change my mind—can I get my money back?

You certainly can! Even after you mail your Enrollment Form . . . even after you examine your Policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish . . . even after all this, you are still free to change your mind. Simply return the Policy within 15 days after you receive it, and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever. Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind, you will be protected by $400.00-a-month extra cash benefits from the Effective Date on the Policy—even if you finally decide to return the Policy and get your quarter back.

But we don't think you'll want your quarter back. We think, instead, you'll want to continue your valuable protection at National Home's amazing low rates.

28 How much does this protection cost after the first month?

The following rate chart shows you how little it costs, after the first month, to protect yourself, your spouse and any adult dependent. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue you only one policy of this type. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium per Adult
16-44	only $2.75
45-49	only $2.95
50-54	only $3.45
55-74	only $3.95
75-79	only $4.45
80-84	only $4.95
85 and over	only $5.95

Only $1.45 more per month covers all your dependent, unmarried children . . . from the age of 1 month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add 95¢ monthly to that, and you're completely covered for Maternity Benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

If what you have read on this page makes good honest sense to you . . . if you find yourself agreeing with thousands of other Americans who welcome this sensible way to save money by "insuring themselves"—then by all means act on your own good instincts and mail the Enrollment Form with 25¢ now! Please act without delay. NO SALESMAN WILL CALL. Please mail it NOW — because once accident or illness strikes—it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any price. Remember, the sooner you mail your Form, the sooner your protection will start. So act today—before anything unexpected happens.

TED SIMMONS ONE TO WATCH

If he hasn't already, Ted Simmons figures between now and May 8 he will learn to fully appreciate playing in the major leagues. During that period Simmons will be following his St. Louis Cardinal teammates in the box-scores with perhaps a couple weekends of batting practice with the club.

Simmons, the number one prospect in the Cardinal farm system the past two years and packing a 'can't miss' tag since his first professional baseball game in 1967, is currently finishing up six months of active service in the U.S. Army and spent an anxious evening last Friday when the Birds opened their season at home.

The 5-11, 187-pounder who won't be 21 years old until Aug. 9, figures to move in to split the catching duties with Joe Torre after May, with Torre getting in some time at first base. Simmons spent last Friday night in the press box and later discussed his future after visiting with teammates in the clubhouse.

"I DIDN'T realize I would miss the game this much," commented the smiling Simmons. "It wasn't bad during spring training, but I didn't know what to do with myself tonight, I took batting practice with the team before the game and sure hated to leave the field when the game started."

The Cardinals are just as anxious for Simmons to join the club as the youngster is to see action. Simmons was the club's number one free-agent draft in 1967 and has since renewed their faith in him. After an outstanding career as a school boy in Southfield, Mich., Simmons has continued his sparkling performance since turning pro.

Ted Simmons

SIMMONS START-ED with Sarasota and Cedar Rapids in 1967 as a 17-year-old and put together two remarkable minor league campaigns and picked up a host of awards. At Modesto in the Class A California League in 1968 he led the league in RBI's with 117 and in batting with a .331 average, and added the league's Rookie of the Year and Most Valuable Player awards. At Tulsa in 1969, Simmons hit .317 with 88 RBI's and 16 home runs to be named the American Association's Rookie of the Year.

Simmons came up at the tail end of last season and went 3-14 in five games with two of his hits being game-winners.

The speech major at the University of Michigan figured this season would be the best time for him to get his active duty out of the way. Now he faces one weekend per month of duty for the next six years. He has been able to take batting practice regularly while on active duty, and feels he will be able to step into the lineup if called upon May 8.

BESIDES NOT looking a day over his 20 years of age and much too boyish to be a major leaguer, Simmons impresses the interviewer for savvy beyond his years. Far from being cocky, Simmons appears not to be of the new breed that has the world on the string and tries to change the status quo.

"I am perfectly happy with the way I have been treated by the Cardinals," retorted Simmons when asked if he realized the probable reserve role he would play most of this year.

"I would naturally like to be playing regular, but not necessarily in a high minor league or on another major league team. The Cardinal organization has always been fair with me, and I don't want to get off on the wrong foot by being a complainer. I will accept whatever role the team has in mind for me. I figure I have many years left and I can wait."

"I NEVER SET a time table for making the major leagues. I had pretty good success in my first three years of pro ball and I have to be satisfied with my progress so far. In the beginning I suppose I set three years for getting a shot in the majors, but I wouldn't have been too disappointed if I had had to spend another year in the minors."

At his early age, Simmons figures he would have to be called a hitter first and a catcher second if he had to be classified.

"The area that causes me the most concern is the defense. I still have a lot to learn on shifting and keeping my balance, and even on throwing. I have picked up a lot in the minors and these guys have been very helpful."

IF THERE was an area in which I have the most confidence, it would have to be hitting. I have confidence that I can hit up here. I have always had a pretty good average, but I could very easily run into some problems. You never know."

Ted Simmons is the type young man you like to see playing in the major leagues. Make a mental note of his name. You'll be hearing plenty in the future, starting May 8.

Callison's Hit Gains 5-4 Edge

CHICAGO (AP) — Johnny Callison's two-run double first victory in two starts, but capped a three-run first inning and moved the Chicago Cubs to a 5-4 home-opening victory over Philadelphia Tuesday.

A standing room Wrigley Field crowd of 36,316 saw the Cubs take charge in the first inning against Chris Short on bunt singles by Don Kessinger and Glen Beckert and doubles by Ernie Banks and Callison. Ken Holtzman went all the way for the Cubs, gaining his first victory in two starts, but had to survive a four-run Philadelphia outburst in the fifth inning after taking a five-hitter into the inning.

Crimsons Sweep Four-Team Meet

Several fine individual performances were turned in as Jacksonville High school ran away with team honors in a quadrangular track meet on the JHS cinders Tuesday afternoon. The Crimsons ran up 92½ points to 52½ by New Berlin, Brown County 23 and Virden 18.

Among the outstanding efforts by Crimston athletes were Jim Parrott's 48"2" in the shot put, Phil Birdsell's 132"9" in the discus, Bob Ware's 4:32.9 mile and George Haley's :22.5 in the 180-yard low hurdles.

New Berlin's Mike Meier turned in an area best in the two-mile with a fine 10:00.1 timing, and brown County's Charles Clinard captured the 100 in :10.5.

New Berlin's Dave Peecher captured the 220, took second in the 100 and third in the long jump.

Clan Hosts Defending Kings Today

The MacMurray College baseball team, hampered by early season rain, will tangle with defending NCAA College Division champion Illinois State University in a twinbill today at MacMurray, beginning at 1 p.m. The games were rained out Tuesday.

Illinois State, coached by Duffy Bass, features a veteran infield and depth in their mound and catching corps. The Redbirds currently hold the No. 2 ranking in the College Division polls.

Coach Dave Berst's Highlander nine has been stymied by 13 rainouts, but still battled No. 11 ranked Southern Illinois University before succumbing 3-1. Mark Thomas, Mac's premier hurler, was the tough luck loser as two of Southern's tallies were unearned. In their only other contest, the Clan battled Quincy College to a 5-5, eleven-inning draw.

At the plate the Clan is led by Tom Couston, who has three hits and has reached base in seven of his eight plate appearances. Dan Doyle and Scott Murphy each have two runs batted, while extra base raps include a double and triple by Glenn Stinson, a two-bagger by Doyle, and Bill Hall's home run against S.I.U.

Coach Berst will send Thomas and freshman Gary Metzger (10 strikeouts in five innings of relief) against I.S.U.

Iba Will Coach Olympic Squad

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry P. Iba, who coached two Olympic basketball teams to victory, likely will be named coach of the 1972 Olympic basketball team.

Arthur Lentz, executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee, said Tuesday Iba had been recommended subject to the approval of the USOC Board of Directors. "We are now conducting a mail ballot," Lentz said.

Dey Plans Overhaul Of Pro Golf Tour

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Joseph C. Dey, Jr., the commissioner of pro golf, is working on an overhaul of the U.S. tour which would lead to a climactic match play championship. But already there are rumblings of protest among the so-called "rabbits."

"Rabbits" is the name given to the mushrooming brood of new young tigers taking to the tour in search of quick riches who are forced to qualify each week for the open spots in a tournament field.

"For years, the tour has been made up of a lot of unrelated tournaments—it's a heterogeneous operation."

"The only two things that tie the tour together are the points ratings and the money. We need a continuity to the tour."

"We haven't worked out all the details but our policy board is seriously studying a plan for a series of invitation tournaments—perps 20 or 25—which would qualify a limited number of players for a big match play event at the end of the season."

"This definitely would be a major tournament—a sort of World Series of Golf."

The policy board consists of four tournament players, two inings and then Cookie Rojas, another pinch hitter, beat out an infield roller, driving in the winning run as St. Louis rallied for a 6-5 victory over Montreal Tuesday night.

The Expos had taken the lead on Marv Staehle's two-out run-scoring triple in the top of the 10th. But the Cards went right to work in the bottom half.

Rookie Leron Lee opened with a single and when Bob Bailey threw wide on an attempted sacrifice, St. Louis had two on and none out.

Julian Javier, attempting to bunt, forced Lee but then Campbell delivered a pinch single, tying the score. After Vic Dav-

Comets Capture 7-6 PMSC Count

VIRGINIA — Chandlerville ran up a 7-1 lead and held on for a slim 7-6 PMSC Conference triumph over Virginia Tuesday afternoon.

Chandlerville, now 3-1 overall and 2-0 in the PMSC, jumped in front in the third inning on Kim Kirchner's grand slam homer, with Gary Eilers boosting the lead on a two-run double in the fourth.

Virginia got back into contention in the bottom of the seventh with Tim Reiterman, who was three-for-three for the day, slamming a two-run double.

Dennis Boeker fanned nine and walked one for the winners. Virginia stands 1-1 overall and in league play.

IC Wins 4-3

Murgatroyd, Orr Stroke Big Hits

Clutch hits by Tom Murgatroyd and Rich Orr and tight pitching by Don Steers and Kent Wildrick carried Illinois College to a slim 4-3 victory over Quincy College on the IC diamond Tuesday afternoon.

Both Murgatroyd, from Routt, and Orr, from Perry, drove in a pair of runs with Orr chasing home the game-winner.

Starter Steers, a freshman from Barry, gave up three unearned runs in working the first six and two-thirds innings before Wildrick put down a rally in the seventh frame and finished up, working out of a first-and-third threat in the top of the ninth.

IC, now 2-2 for the year, jumped in front in the opening inning when Randy Akers walked and scored on Orr's double. The Blueboys pushed in two more in the sixth when Glen Phillips was hit by a pitch. Akers singled, Orr reached on a fielder's choice and Murgatroyd stroked a single to right.

The game winner came in the bottom of the eighth to snap a 3-3 deadlock. Phillips walked with one away and moved on to second on a fielder's choice that retired the second man. Orr then delivered a sharp single to right center.

Quincy now stands 2-8-1 on the year.

White, Lawson Lead The Way In Triangular

PLEASANT HILL — Bob White and Phil Lawson sparked Pleasant Hill to a triangular track meet margin over Pittsfield and Meredosias Tuesday. The winners ran up 80 points to 60 by Pittsfield and 25 by Meredosias.

White won the 220, two-mile run and high jump and ran a leg on the winning 880 relay. Lawson captured the 100 and low hurdles and came in second in the long jump as well as carrying the baton on the winning mile relay.

Meredosias' Ron Summers won the shot put and discus and came in second in the 220.

Detroit Pounds Out 12-4 Count Behind Lolich

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers opened their home season Tuesday by pummeling seven Cleveland pitchers for 15 hits, including three hits each by Norm Cash and Jim Northrup, enabling Mickey Lolich to stagger through to his third straight complete game in a 12-4 victory.

Detroit scored four runs off Cleveland starter and loser Rich Hand in the third inning, added five off relievers Phil Hennigan and Bob Miller in the fifth, and got three more off Mike Paul in the sixth and seventh.

Lolich, pitching before a crowd of 46,891 surrendered 12 hits but managed to go all the way behind the Tiger bombardment as he brought his record to 2-1.

Blackburn Tips IC In Tennis 5-2

Blackburn captured four of the five singles matches and raced to a 5-2 Prairie college Conference tennis victory over Illinois College on the IC courts Tuesday afternoon.

Frank Bridgewater got IC's only singles point with a three-set match, then teamed with Mick Cochran for a doubles victory.

Both clubs are now 1-1 for the season.

ABA Talks Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association presented Tuesday seven general recommendations for merger with the National Basketball Association, leaving the next step toward a marriage of the two pro circuits up to the NBA owners.

The recommendations were made at an all-day meeting of the ABA owners who heard a report from the league's merger committee.

ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said the recommendations also had been agreed to, in general, by the NBA's merger committee and now would be submitted to the NBA owners, who might meet next week.

Dolph expressed optimism at a news conference over a merger of the two leagues and added:

"If we don't, I believe both leagues will have made a serious mistake."

The general areas of agreement as approved by the ABA owners are:

—Commencing next season there will be mixed exhibition games as well as a championship series and an All-Star game between the two leagues.

—Commencing next season there will be separate leagues with a limited mixed regular-season schedule. This structure will continue for three seasons after which there will be a total realignment of all existing teams.

—All eleven of the ABA teams will be included in any merger.

—Each league will retain separate negotiating rights for national television for the period of the next three years.

—All players who are involved in multiple signings will remain in their current legal status and will be resolved between the two teams involved.

—An indemnity of approximately $11 million will be paid by the ABA.

—The Washington-Baltimore situation cannot be resolved unilaterally and a decision on this matter will depend on the NBA meeting. However, Earl Foreman, Washington owner, has indicated to the ABA that he is not unwilling to leave Washington under certain circumstances, and the ABA has reached agreement on a recommendation to be given the NBA on this matter.

Alou, Hebner Let Bucs Ruin Mets Opener 6-4

NEW YORK (AP) — Matty Alou and Richie Hebner came through with run-scoring singles Tuesday as Pittsburgh scored two runs in the 10th inning and ruined the home opening day of the world champion New York Mets with a 6-4 victory before 41,679.

Tug McGraw walked Jerry May, opening the Pirate 10th and John Jeter ran for May. McGraw fielded Chuck Hartenstein's bunt and threw the ball into center field, moving runners to second and third. Alou then singled to right, scoring Jeter. After McGraw walked Bill Mazeroski, leading the bases, Cal Koonce replaced him. Richie Hebner's pinch single drove in the second run in the inning.

Bob Robertson whose bobble had permitted the Mets to score the tie-breaking run in the seventh, tied the game 4-4 with a home run off Ron Taylor in the ninth.

First Baptist Circle Has Regular Meeting

Virginia Nickerson Circle 1 granted a visa to India so that he might work in the hospital there along with American Baptist medical missionaries now serving in India. Plans were made for the April 16 meeting of the Missionary Society of the church at which Circle 1 will be acting as hostess circle for the afternoon. A lovely gift was presented the circle leader.

Members present were Mrs. Marian Hauck, Mrs. Charles Strommatt, Mrs. W. T. Query, Mrs. Edgar Busey, Mrs. Orris Lindsey, Mrs. Earl Davis, and the hostess, Mrs. Susan Greenwalt. The remaining funds from this circle were to be given to the general missionary society and a gift to the special organ fund.

Gloria Marshall Circle 2 met Thursday April 2 for their final meeting of the two-year period. A potluck luncheon at the home of Mrs. O. L. Westmorlan was enjoyed by ten members and their guests, Rev. and Mrs. Robert Ramseyer.

The devotion was given by Mrs. J. W. Patterson on Easter thoughts and the subject I Must Believe. The mission lesson was given by Mrs. Richard Dober.

A letter from the daughter of Mrs. Dober, Norma Carmean who is in Guam, was read and answered. Mrs. Anderson Kitchen, love gift chairman, gave a love gift meditation and read a poem.

The group gave the chairman a gift as a token of affection for her and the past two years service. The Circle divided their funds by giving a gift to the special organ fund and the remainder to the general society.

Margaret Circle 3 met at the home of its chairman, Mrs. A. J. Stewart, for its April meeting.

The devotions were given by Mrs. Lela Henderson and the mission lesson by Mrs. Ruth Townsley. The remainder of the meeting time was spent in discussion of church attendance and attitudes.

The group presented the leader with a gift in appreciation of her work the past two years. The funds of this circle were also divided and given to the special organ fund and the general missionary society. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Peggy Smith Circle 4 met with Mrs. Everett Hankla for their April meeting. The business of the Circle was conducted by Mrs. Claude Armstrong, chairman. She spoke about projects in the near future for providing money to help on the new church needs.

A bake sale is planned for April 25, and a garage sale to be held later. A new slate of officers for the coming two-year period was presented and accepted. A gift of money for the building fund was presented. Devotions and prayer were offered by Mrs. Eugene Paden.

The program for the evening was given by Vito Luthra, a student from New Delhi, India. He has been attending Washington University and working with Barnes hospital in St. Louis, Mo. and is now affiliated with Mobil Chemical in this city. He spoke on the customs of his country, India, telling of the economic and social conditions there, and the educational advantages which are compulsory. He is doing research work on a lung machine to detect ailments. He invited anyone to ask questions on any subject concerning his country.

He offered to visit some of the Baptist missions in India when he goes home on a visit and report to our missionary society when he returns. Everyone enjoyed his lecture and the question and answer period.

There were fourteen members and one guest, Mrs. Edna Ring from Texas, present. The May meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Pearl Davenport, 317 S. Kosciusko Ave. The Dorothy Carder Circle 5 met with Mrs. C. D. Brewer on Thursday evening, April 2, with six members present. After the business meeting of the circle was completed, a most interesting book review by Mrs. Roland Erickson entitled "The Miracle Healers," was given. The group planned a Tupperware party for Wednesday evening, April 8, at the new church building. Funds will be used for needs of the church. Refreshments were served by the hostess and enjoyed by all present.

The next meeting will be May 7 at the church with Mrs. George Shaffer as the hostess. This will be a potluck at 6:30 p.m. followed by the regular and last meeting of the two-year period.

Cooking Is Fun Accompaniment For Baked Ham

Spoon Bread
Coffee Jelly with Custard Sauce

SPICED FRUIT
1 can (1 pound) peach halves
1 can (1 pound) apricot halves
1 can (1 pound) pear halves
2 teaspoons whole cloves
1 cinnamon stick

½ teaspoon whole allspice
½ cup light molasses
1-3 cup cider vinegar

Drain syrup from fruits into a medium saucepan. To syrup add cloves, cinnamon and allspice; bring to a boil and simmer for eight minutes. With a slotted spoon remove spices. Stir in molasses and vinegar. Heat. Add fruit and heat gently. Serve hot or cold. Store in refrigerator. Serve as a relish with a main course. Enough for 8 to 12 servings.

DO-IT-YOURSELF Outside Of House Needs Inspection

By MR. FIX
You are never likelier to find damage in an inspection of house and grounds than you are in the spring. Wind, snow and freezing weather all take their toll.

What were hairline cracks in masonry in the winter will be good-sized crevices by spring. Wind damage may be found on the roof in the form of loosened shingles.

Take a look at the outside of your house from the top down. Shingles that the wind has loosened or caused to curl can be taken care of with little trouble. Generally a dab of roof cement on the underside, or a smear of it right across the underside of the edge will hold the shingle down.

If shingles are slightly torn, nail down with roofing nails after using roof coating on the underside. Then put a dab of the coating on the nail heads.

Broken shingles should be carefully removed by gently lifting the shingle above and lifting out the exposed nails. Slide out the old, slip in a new shingle and nail in place.

Take a look at gutters and downspouts next. They will probably need cleaning first of all. There may be damage due to the weight of ice and snow. Remail hangers wherever needed so that gutters are not sagging.

Look for cracks in foundations, sidewalks, concrete steps and driveway. Cracks will have to be cleaned out, even enlarged before patching. Make the opening wider at the bottom than the top to keep the patch in. Wet thoroughly. Use a sponge or hose.

Ready-mix patching materials, the kind to which you just add water, are the best to use. Get mortar or concrete mix, depending on the nature of the material to be repaired. Fill the crack with the patching material, using a pointed trowel for any fine work. Keep the patch wet until it is completely hard.

While you are inspecting your house, it is a good idea to keep a caulking gun in hand. You can take care of two jobs at once. Wherever caulking has dried out or cracked, scrape away the old and replace with new. Give special attention to doors and windows and underneath window sills.

Take a good look at the paint on your house. Seepage may have caused paint to blister. Even if you don't intend to paint now but wait until fall instead, it's not a bad idea to scrape and prime any bad areas. Then when you are ready to paint that big job will be out of the way. This is the time to put snow shovels away and haul out garden tools. Check over tools, lawn mower, hoses so that you can repair or replace now. Even if you are not ready to put up screens, get them out and check them over. The least they will need is cleaning. They also may need repairing or painting.

When you do take off storm windows and doors, put them away clean, cover them and store in a dry place.

Waverly Club Hears Students

WAVERLY — The Waverly Woman's Club met Friday, April 3, in the parlors of the Waverly United Methodist church. President, Mrs. Herman J. Brown, led the pledge to the flag and the Lord's Prayer.

Minutes were read and approved and the treasurer's report given. Mrs. Brown reported that a music scholarship to Western Music Camp would be given. The club voted unanimously to accept Mrs. Mary Chism as a new member.

Mrs. Jacobs was elected to represent the club as director of the American Legion for three years. Mrs. Addie Doolin was elected as shareholder representative of the American Legion for one year.

As the Mizpah class of the church could not serve the club's annual May luncheon, the group voted to go to the Blackhawk restaurant. The luncheon will be at 1 p.m. May 1. Members will gather and leave across the street from the church at 12:15 p.m.

The county meeting of I.F.W.C. will take place at the Grace Methodist in Jacksonville, Monday, April 13. A carry-in luncheon will be served at noon. The Mason City Juniors will be hostesses for the Annual District Convention April 17 at the Holiday Inn East, Springfield. Reservations must be made by April 10. Cost of the luncheon will be $3.

Mrs. Sherry Anstett, chairman of the nominating committee, presented Mrs. Linda Campbell as 1st vice-president and Mrs. Ann Rawlings as corresponding secretary who were elected.

Mark Allen, band director of the school presented a musical

TRUSTEES were on hand for the ceremonies in Annie Merner Chapel Saturday afternoon. From left: A. Wadsworth Applebee of Jacksonville; and two former Republican candidates for Governor of Illinois, Richard Yates Rowe, Sr., of Jacksonville, and John Henry Altorfer of Peoria.

ROODHOUSE CLASS HAS POTLUCK

ROODHOUSE — The Amoma Class of the First Baptist church held a luncheon Tuesday, April 7 at the church with seventeen attending. Guests were Mrs. Hazel Sage, Miss Bernadine Lewis, Mrs. Hattie Hart and Mrs. Guy Langley.

Mrs. Thomas Meckley and her committee served as hostesses.

The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Anna Roe and the birthday song was sung by the group celebrating anniversaries.

The pastor, Rev. H. L. Janvren, spoke briefly about the Asbury group who will visit the local church. According to Professor Steinhausen of Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., he will bring a team of four students to Roodhouse April 11.

Devotions on Portraits of Christ were presented by Mrs. Hal Rawlings. The group was adjourned after reciting the Lord's Prayer.

MERRY MOTHERS MEET IN MARCH AT MUSCH HOME

The March meeting of the Merry Mothers was held at the home of Mildred Musch with Gladys Tappenbeck assisting. The meeting was opened by the president, Barb Fricke. Joyce Crews led the club song. The minutes were read and approved.

The resignation of Betty Nerganah was accepted with regret. It was voted to donate $5 to the Cancer Fund.

Joyce Crews announced that the next meeting would be at 7:30 p.m. on May 6 at her home. This will be a Mother's Day special and each member may bring a guest.

The meeting closed with silent prayer.

A special program was enjoyed by those attending. Dorothy Ware showed slides of her trip to Africa. Refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

Japan Depends On Strong Northern Life Of Defense

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
Associated Press Writer
SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — "Assuming there is support from the mainland and U.S. help, we can stand and we can defeat them."

The man talking was Lt. Gen. Masakatsu Hashimoto, the 57-year-old commander of Japan's northern army.

He took pains to emphasize that he was speaking as a military man about defense, and the "them" referred to was strictly hypothetical.

Still, his 50,000-man army, Japan's "biggest and strongest" in Hashimoto's words, is based on this northernmost main island of Hokkaido, only a couple of hundred miles of icy waters from the Soviet Union.

Hashimoto recently told newsmen he does "not hold the opinion that the Soviet Union is our enemy; I do not think so." At the same time, he noted the Russians have "tremendous military strength close to Hokkaido and there is a potential threat."

"Their jets are only 25 minutes away," the general said. "This is why we have assigned such strength to Hokkaido."

The northern army, with its headquarters in this city of 930,000 persons, is made up of the 2nd, 5th and 11th Infantry Divisions and the 7th Mechanized Division. Other elements of Japan's military strength on Hokkaido include an artillery brigade, a tank group, air wings and 64-member women's army (WAC) contingent. The girls, led by a former schoolteacher, do mostly clerical and communications work, but they get basic instruction in the handling of weapons.

All these units and the other military groups across the country are lumped in what Japan calls its Self Defense Forces. Nationwide, the ground forces now total 179,000, maritime forces 37,813 and air force 41,183 uniformed personnel. The defense forces now are undergoing their third buildup as Japan moves, somewhat gingerly, toward a show of military muscle.

Gen. Hashimoto said he has spent the past 12 years studying the defense of Hokkaido, an island with a population of five million, but added that the security treaty link with the United States figures in all such planning by high ranking Japanese officers.

"I cannot think without consideration of American power," he said. "We do not have the air capability. We do not have the capability of the 7th Fleet."

"We are not expecting the help of army strength from America, but backed by the U.S. Navy and Air Force, we are able to defend our nation."

Hashimoto, his jet-black hair cut in a military whitewash high above his ears, peered from behind his glasses and discussed the problems of the contested northern islands, fishing boats and the ways of Soviet lumber ships.

It has been found, he said, that the Soviets currently are asking captured Japanese fishermen questions of a military nature, many relating to the structure of the defense forces. North Korea also is interested in Japanese activity along this northern frontier, he added.

Many of his troops were on maneuvers in the snowy northern part of Hokkaido, and Hashimoto said such exercises were being carried out because it is "important to know whether the enemy could attack in winter."

He pointed out the big island has many isolated areas in the winter season and said a potential enemy might be able to sneak in small units by parachute or boat and attempt to set up clandestine operations or even guerrilla warfare.

"The fishing industry is large," he said, "and Japanese fishing boats are arrested right in front of our eyes." As for Soviet lumber vessels, he noted this trade is important for Hokkaido but said the Russian ships "tend to berth at ports other than designated and stay longer than considered necessary."

"It is apparent," he went on, "that a kind of spy activity is included, but we are not sleeping either. It does not benefit only the other side."

Discussing Japan's military posture in broader terms, Hashimoto said that "in his personal view" it is not necessary for Japan's rebuilding forces to have nuclear weapons.

"I do not believe nuclear weapons will be used for war," he said. "There is no reason. I believe that nations which have nuclear weapons are making an effort not to use them. We don't have to equip with equipment which is not necessary."

Hashimoto, who is scheduled to retire soon after a 41-year career, described himself as an "old imperial officer" who "goes to the graveyard this year." He was a lieutenant colonel with an artillery unit at the end of World War II.

The Weeders' Guide

By EARL ARONSON
AP NEWSFEATURES

Perhaps I should have waited until next fall to tell you about the mounting interest in gardening under indoor lighting. Proponents attribute much public acceptance to successful efforts of amateurs and those who garden under highly-controlled environmental conditions.

"Unlike outdoor gardening, subject to the hazards of varying temperatures, rain and too much sun, indoor light gardening presents ideal conditions," they contend.

At the International Garden Show in New York City we tracked down the neat exhibit of the Indoor Light Gardening Society of America, Metropolitan Chapter, which later won a gold medal.

One end of the booth was occupied by a fine, built-in light exhibit, and ready and eager to describe the merits of the home-made structure and indoor light gardening were designer Vance Fazzino and builder John Peterson.

Their model, made of plywood and steel frame, 12 feet long over-all, but fitted to a corner, cost about $30. Shelves were of varying height and length, some holding plants, others books and art objects.

Lights, in this case ordinary commercial tubes, were suspended from the shelves. The tubing was not visible.

One officer of the club related proudly that the growing period required for annuals raised from seed was reduced by one-third between planting and blooming time with the use of the lights.

This technique is made possible through advances in light bulb design, it was explained. The units were displayed just as they might be used in the home or apartment. Jasmine, African violet, begonia, miniature geranium and pomegranates were growing under lights.

The big garden show presented a panorama of color, thousands of flowers of many shapes and sizes, annuals and perennials, flowering trees and shrubs, professional and amateur exhibits, spring gardens, old fashioned gardens, patio, tropical, orchid and rose gardens, cut flowers and potted plants.

The Coliseum smelled of spring. It was like strolling through an ever-changing garden scene. Thousands went home with ideas to improve their own gardens.

A panel of leading horticulturists judged the entries. A horticulturist, conservationist, nurseryman, air pollution foe and secretary of the international show, all in the person of Stan Bulpitt of Darien, Conn., demonstrated the compost technique of converting garden waste to useful form.

Some communities have adopted some of his ideas. Scarsdale, N.Y., city officials now compost the community's leaves instead of polluting the environment by burning, dumping or burying them. The result: abatement of pollution; optimum about tackling other problems; and an income-producing compost that sells for less than peat moss.

"The secret," says Bulpitt, "is to save organic material and convert it from one useful purpose to another."

Another exhibit that attracted considerable attention was the walk-through hobby greenhouse of the Men's Garden Club of New York.

Lanolin Helps Hair
Let's face it, girls. Sleeping on rollers may damage your hair. Hair dryers may cause hair breakage. So what's a girl to do about split ends? Can't prance around with droopy hair that's lost its pizzazz, can you? What you CAN do is use baby oil or lanolin on the ends of your hair as you set it. The moisturizer will condition your hair, dry or wet, and help prevent any further harm.

Man Denied Formal Education Has Helped 60 Achieve Goals

By ROY MALONE
Associated Press Writer
GRANITE CITY, Ill. (AP) — Fatherless at 14, Carl Graham got a job at $6 a week to become the sole support of his mother. He never had the chance to get a formal education.

Now, at 80, he sits in a nursing home and reviews a scrapbook filled with educational achievements. Not his, but those of some 60 young men who worked at his bookstore over the years to earn money for college.

Those 60 are everywhere now — doctors, lawyers, pilots, teachers, businessmen. One is engineer of an atomic submarine.

"Never had a failure," the white-haired Graham said as he thumbed through the scrapbook which contains high school photos and biographies of his former employees.

"This fellow saved $2,400. And this one's making $50,000 now. And this boy here — smartest I ever saw. He went on to the Naval Academy."

Graham started hiring boys in 1940 for sales, stock and inventory work. Background wasn't important for getting a job at Graham's Bookstore. Desire for an education was.

"I tried to encourage them. A fellow who went out and spent his money, well, I wasn't too interested in him," Graham said. "I like to see fellows get an education, a family and own property. That's the American way."

Irvin Slate, who worked at the store in 1954 and 1955, now has a law office across the street.

"The boys who worked for him were like his family," Slate said of Graham, a bachelor. "He was a special kind of boss. A quiet, shy and inspiring man. He would think a long time of what to say to a boy and then let him have it in about three sentences. Those sentences meant a lot."

Earl Branding, now a doctor in Caro, Mich., stopped by recently to see Graham. Work at the store and, later, a loan, helped Branding through school. The loan was repaid along with a special dividend. "My wife and I have named our first born David Graham Branding," the doctor said.

Thomas H. McRaven, retired welder, has three sons, all of whom worked at Graham's. "He was a good man to work for. He was good to them," said McRaven.

Son Tom now is a partner in a large accounting firm in St. Louis, just across the Mississippi River from Granite City. Don is a doctor and Harold a store manager.

Graham still does some record keeping for the store, which his nephew now runs.

Be Patient The Census Taker Is Coming

Richard C. Long, district manager, reports that the 1970 Census of Population and Housing is nearing completion in the area, that in about another week the census takers should have visited every residence on their lists.

Census takers began visiting households on April 1 and have been working continuously to cover their territories. The district manager asks that householders hold their questionnaires, which were delivered prior to April 1, and have them filled out, ready for the census taker to pick up. This will save time for both the householder and the census taker and speed up the completion of the census.

For every fifth household, the census taker will have a longer questionnaire which she will fill out by interviewing a member of the household. The district manager asks householders to welcome these census takers when they call and to give them full cooperation in getting the required census information.

Most of the census takers are women. Each wears a red, white, and blue identification badge which is her official credential. It bears her signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a Census Enumerator and has sworn to keep confidential all census information given her.

The Bank Of Uganda

Our article of Sept. 11, 1969 — "Pope Paul in Africa" — described the six-coin proof set issued by the Bank of Uganda honoring Pope Paul's visit to that African nation. In the column, we were able to give the selling price of the complete set but referred readers to Paramount International for the cost of individual pieces.

Since then, Paramount has been receiving requests for single-coin prices and has issued a price list covering similar coins for six nations — the Republic of Guinea, Chile, Haiti, Albania, Jordan and Uganda. A deadline on the Guinea and Uganda sets may affect future sales of individual pieces.

In a note from Max Humbert, president of Paramount International Coin Corp., May 31 was set as the final ordering date or until the present supply of 1,000 sets is exhausted. Humbert points out that, since no additional 1969 proof coins will be struck by either Guinea or Uganda, those on hand will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis. Should any remain unsold after that date, they will be returned to the mint for destruction.

Each coin in the Uganda proof set is 1,000-1,000 pure silver, with the largest being the 30-shilling piece 60 millimeters in diameter (illustrated actual size) and weighing 60 grams. It may be purchased individually for $23.25.

A note to Paramount International Coin Corp., Paramount Building, Englewood, Ohio 45322, will bring a full-color brochure of coinage from all six countries, plus a price list.

Reader reaction to my book, "Cowles Complete Encyclopedia of U.S. Coins," is beginning to show up almost daily in the mail. With the exception of two notes of criticism, all seem to find it highly informative.

Many contain valid queries. One such raises a point asked many times in the past: DEAR MR. REED—I have thoroughly enjoyed reading your new book and know it will be a reliable reference source.

You refer to the "first motto" (E Pluribus Unum) and the "second motto" (In God We Trust). I was surprised not to see some similar reference to what I thought were two other mottos, "Liberty" and "Peace." Are these mottos?

If not, please explain why not. Congratulations on a fine book.—Wm. N. Michal, M.D., High Point, N.C.

The doctor is right. A motto can be either a brief sentence, phrase or single word to express a principle, goal or ideal. It may be attached to or inscribed upon any object. For some reason, our founding fathers considered "Liberty" a condition or situation to be taken for granted under the new form of government and not merely a motivating thought.

For that reason, in my opinion, the word "Liberty" was a justification for the issuance of our currency and a foundation for the existence of the issuing authority—United States of America. It is required legend or inscription on all U.S.

Actresses Make Merry With Music

Ali McGraw and Phyllis Diller have something in common. Both play the harpsichord. And believe it or not, Phyllis plays it better.

"You can't imagine the number of hours I've spent learning to play the harpsichord for my new movie, 'Love Story,'" says Ali, who starred in "Goodbye Columbus." Even though her own playing won't be heard in the movie—the sound of someone more proficient will be dubbed in—Ali believes her efforts will make the scene more realistic.

Phyllis Diller, madcap comedienne who reportedly got her start in a laundromat entertaining other housewives, has a houseful of instruments: a flute and a zither. According to Phyllis, "Everybody plays everything."

An actress with almost as much musical versatility as Phyllis Diller is Vicki Lawrence, who dances and plays Carol Burnett's look-alike sister on Carol's weekly television show. Vicki, who became interested in music while in high school, plays the piano, drums, guitar and trumpet.

The American Music Conference (AMC) reveals that many Hollywood actresses play musical instruments, either for movie roles or for personal enjoyment. Several learned to play in order to accompany themselves at voice lessons.

The guitar is popular among actresses. Among the guitarists are Brigitte Bardot, Betsy Drake and Diane Varsi. Several actresses, replying to an AMC poll, said they'd like to learn to play the guitar.

Janet Leigh, who studied piano for four years would rather play the guitar "because you can take it with you wherever you go and have music all the time."

Julie Harris, who took piano lessons "on and off as a child," also would like to learn to play the guitar. "I love folk music and the guitar is perfect for this," she said.

Tammy Grimes studied the piano for five years and still plays "a little bit;" she also studied the recorder. But she, too, wants to learn the guitar because of its "universality as far as type of music played, convenience of size, ease of accompaniment."

Piano players are legion in Hollywood. Actresses who relax at the keyboard include Anne Baxter, Ann Southern, Janet Blair, Diana Lynn and Kitty Carlisle. Grace Kelly, now the Princess of Monaco, also plays the piano.

Other instruments find their way into actresses' hands. Nina Foch and Marlene Dietrich both play the violin; Miss Dietrich also plays the musical saw.

The cello has its supporters: both Mamie Van Doren and Kathryn Hays play it.

Debbie Reynolds relaxes with the Srenuh horn and Greer Garson plays the harmonica. Music, it appears is equally at home soothing savage beasts and movie actresses.

New buffet design offers super storage for bride's sterling silver. Top unit features two felt-lined drawers, one with a molded rack for flatware. Dining accessories hide behind four decorative doors. Note unusual door panels in hammered, chased and burnished copper and bronze. Take panels out and reverse to a warm walnut veneer. Design is in Hibriten's Assemblage collection.

Business — Market Wrapup

Business Mirror

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — When an individual signs a franchise agreement with, let us say, a restaurant chain, he might agree to buy his signs, kitchen equipment, spices and packages solely from the franchiser.

This, he is told, is part of his success formula. It will allow him to maintain a consistently high quality product. It will assure customers that a high standard is maintained by any shop that uses the franchiser's methods.

Thousands of businessmen have signed such agreements in recent years, convinced at the moment of signing that everything was in their favor. Now many of them are disillusioned. Some are seeking court relief.

"The franchise agreement presently in use by most franchisers is an instrument of repression," says Harold Brown, author of "Franchising, Trap for the Trusting." Such contracts must be rewritten, he maintains.

Contracts aren't the only issues affecting the $100-billion industry. Franchising accounting methods have made some businesses look a lot better than they really are, bringing pressure from the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Congress also is interested in franchising methods, particularly those which employ the names of celebrities to sell exclusive rights to territories. Some purchasers have found themselves possessing nothing but a section of map.

Local merchants also are complaining, feeling that they have been bulldozed by franchise chains that come into their territories with a great hullabaloo that amounts to unfair competition.

The biggest problem, however, remains within the industry, and it concerns those contracts. A U.S. District Court jury in San Francisco has just ruled "tie-in" arrangements illegal.

This goes to the very heart of the industry. Tie-ins refer to stipulations in the contracts that dealers purchase certain of their supplies exclusively from the chain. And that's what franchising is all about.

"A matter of life and death," said attorneys for Chicken Delight, before the grand jury ruled that such agreements violated the Sherman Antitrust Act.

"What is under attack," they had argued to no avail, "is sole obligatory method of compensation to Chicken Delight for its trademark license, for its name, for its system—for everything Chicken Delight is."

The action was brought against the company and its parent, Consolidated Foods Corp., as a class action on behalf of Chicken Delight dealers, who have been increasingly restless of late.

Attorney for the dissidents, Michael Khourie, claimed in the suit that the company forced its franchisees to buy packaging goods at inflated prices, and that it also overcharged franchisees for the goods used.

He maintained that there is a built-in conflict of interest between franchisee and franchiser. Chicken Delight, he said, wasn't interested so much in selling him packaging.

District Court Judge George Harris directed the jury to find that the agreement, as it regards packaging, violates the antitrust statute. The jury, on its own, found the requirement that chips, spices, utensils be purchased from the company wasn't legally justified.

The decision will be appealed, but until a final ruling is obtained the agreements between more than 1,000 franchisees and many thousands of businessmen are going to be challenged. Suits might become common place.

Free Rock Show This Weekend In Brown Co.

MT. STERLING — Every spring thousands are attracted to the Rock Show at Mt. Sterling, sponsored by the Siloam Springs Earth Science Club. This marks the 13th year for the event and dates are Saturday, April 18, and Sunday, April 19. The location is at the gym in St. Mary's Academy. Hours Saturday are 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday, 12 noon to 6 p.m.

There is no admission charge and entertainment includes over 75 exhibits of gems, minerals, fossils, artifacts, rocks and shells. There will also be door prizes and a lunch counter will be in operation. The latter will start service at noon both days.

The event brings interested persons from many states and has a high rating among member clubs of the Midwest Federation of Gem and Mineralogical Society. Miss Hazel Kuntz, assistant regional director for the Midwest Federation, will be present for the show.

Among Mt. Sterling area exhibitors are Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hoelscher, native specimen display; Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Reich, minerals and crystal; Lyle Hickman; Mrs. W. F. Roberts; Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Tice, shells of mollusk (original exhibit) and many other rare and beautiful shells from all over the world.

Other initial displays indicated are intarsia, maps, flags, animals and birds, shown by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anesi, Quincy; Louis and Hazel Barnes, Auburn, facing; Brown County Soil Conservation Service will also have a display.

Dan Finch of Iowa will show sandcast pictures and demonstrate how they are made.

The Glen Hanning of Huntsville will have an extensive exhibit of Indian artifacts, a case which took first place at National will be included. There are many others booked for this free showing. Exhibitors do not offer specimens for sale but some dealers will be showing from Missouri and Illinois.

Ladies of St. Mary's Altar society will serve plate lunches, sandwiches, salads and other short orders. Valuable door prizes will be awarded through registration.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market reacted sharply Tuesday to reports of lower earnings for the first quarter.

An earnings decline had been anticipated by the financial community. And the bad news had been coming for several days. But, as one analyst said, "The dampening effect on the market is cumulative with earnings."

He added that the massive American Telephone & Telegraph offering that began Monday also depressed the market. The offering apparently diverted capital that otherwise might have gone into the stock market.

"Some fresh good news is needed to bring the market out of its doldrums," the analyst said.

In the absence of "fresh good news," the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials slipped 5.34 points to 780.56, the lowest level since March 24 when the average stood at 773.76. That was the last session before the rally that resulted from the cut in the late prime lending rate.

The Associated Press 60-stock average slipped 2.2 to 275.2. Industrials were off 2.5, rails off 1.8, and utilities off .8.

Volume on the Big Board increased to 10.85 million shares from 8.81 shares Monday.

Of the 1,588 issues traded on the New York Stock Exchange, 1,023 declined while 319 advanced. Yearly lows were touched by 253 issues and highs by 15.

The market picture looked bleaker earlier in the session than it did at the close. The Dow Jones industrial average at 11:30 a.m. was off by 9.17 point.

The most-active issue on the New York Stock Exchange was Seaboardworld Airlines, off 1/4 at 8 1/4 at on a volume of 229,000 shares. A 166,200-share block of the issue traded at 8. It was the largest block of the session.

The American Stock Exchange price change index slipped .26 to 23.81. Losers led winners 703 to 137 out of some 1,043 issues traded. Volume rose to 3.5 million shares from 2.62 million shares Monday.

WHEAT AND CORN FUTURES HIGHER
CHICAGO (AP) — A wave of speculative buying sent wheat and corn futures prices sharply higher on the Chicago Board of Trade Tuesday.

Wheat futures advanced 1 1/2 cents a bushel and corn futures 1 cent, but there was some late profit-taking in both pits.

Oats and rye prices closed generally on the weak side. Trade was mixed and fairly active, but the center of trading interest was the soybean complex.

At the close, wheat was 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents a bushel higher, May 1.47 1/2; corn was 1/4 to 1/2 higher, May 1.26 1/2; oats were unchanged to 1/4 higher, May 64 1/2; rye was 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, May 1.12 1/2; and soybeans were 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher, May 2.64 1/2.

State's Major

Advanced Communications
Today the Illinois State Police is building one of the most advanced telecommunications systems in the nation. One of the systems now being developed will be a first for any state in the nation and will provide an emergency frequency network over which police cars at any level—state, local and county—can communicate with one another. The Illinois State Police also is leading in the development of a computerized crime information system into which all law enforcement agencies can feed information about crimes, wanted and missing persons, stolen and abandoned vehicles. And, in a matter of seconds, the system can answer any request by state, county or local agencies for information on similar subjects.

Motorcycle Riders
Most troopers, with the exception of district commanders, rode motorcycles until 1941. According to one of the first troopers, O. W. "Buck" Kempster of Peoria, the first cycles left a lot to be desired. "Buck," who attained the rank of sergeant before resigning in 1934, said he received four motorcycles during his first six months "because they fell apart."

"The motorcycles were shipped to the hometown, and officers were never taught to ride them or given any instructions," Kempster recalled. "I ran through the judge's front lawn and flower bed the first ride I took in Sterling."

All motorcycles were abandoned by 1948, and the men were equipped with mobile unit cars.

In 1957 the name of the force was changed to Illinois State Highway Police, and 12 years later the force dropped "Highway" from its functioning title.

Prevention and Education
"The Illinois State Police is a total law enforcement agency today, fighting crime through prevention and education as well as enforcement," present Supt. James T. McGuire said. "Its functions are no longer solely on the highway or of a patrol nature. These men are called upon to quell racial, civil and campus disturbances, investigate major criminal activities, train police officers and teach safety education. The Illinois State Police serves as an example to other law enforcement agencies in the state."

The state police entered the space age in 1959 with the purchase of four airplanes to be piloted by uniformed officers for use in traffic and speeder control, manhunts, searches and missions of mercy.

Detective Unit
A separate detective unit for the state police was formed in 1960. The men wear plain clothes and were assigned to investigate major crimes in cooperation with the local law enforcement agencies. This section now numbers 105 and is involved in stolen and abandoned cars investigations, criminal investigations, gambling and prostitution raids.

Classes for the Illinois State Police Training Academy, which began in 1941 with a three-day course, were conducted at the state fairgrounds until the new million dollar Academy Building, located south of Springfield, was completed in the summer of 1968. The academy is considered one of the best in the nation and has graduated 46 classes since its founding.

Merriman Smith Dies Of Gunshot
WASHINGTON (AP) — Merriman Smith, White House correspondent for United Press International for 28 years, is dead at age 57, apparently of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

Smith received the Pulitzer Prize in 1963 for his coverage of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

He suffered a severe illness in December 1968, but recovered. Ten days ago he entered a District of Columbia hospital. He told his office Monday he had a severe cold and would not be in to work.

When Smith's wife checked on him after he did not answer her call in her Alexandria, Va., home, she found him in a bathroom, with a bullet wound through his head and a .357 magnum revolver nearby.

In a statement, President Nixon praised Smith, saying "Smith was a reporter I knew and so tonight, I feel a real sense of personal loss. Mrs. Nixon joins me in expressing our deepest sympathy to his family."

Soviet Envoy In Vienna For SALT Talks

VIENNA (AP) — Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Semenov arrived yesterday for the resumption of the strategic arms limitation talks with the United States. He said the Kremlin had instructed his delegation "to conduct negotiations in a factual and constructive manner."

"One would hope that this will also be displayed by the American side," said Semenov in a statement at the railroad station.

Gerard Smith and his U.S. delegation arrive tonight. They stopped in Brussels today to talk with the NATO representatives of the other members of the North Atlantic alliance.

The talks, known as SALT, start Thursday and are expected to last two or three months. Preliminary meetings were held in Helsinki, Finland, in November and December, and another round is to be held in the Finnish capital after the Vienna sessions.

American sources said they expect the meeting in Vienna to be "more substantive" than the Helsinki talks. The chief accomplishment announced from the latter was the agreement to meet again.

A huge meteorite exploded over Siberia on June 30, 1908, with a bang heard 600 miles away, and with a force 25,000 times greater than the atomic bomb which devastated Hiroshima. It left no crater, but blew down all the trees in a 38-mile circle, and burned to death a herd of 500 reindeer.

DEAR POLLY—Does anyone know of a safe way to straighten out snapshots (made within the year) that are curled and brittle? Pressing them with a heavy book only helps a little.
—MRS. L.W.
DEAR POLLY—I want to tell Caroline that I have a sheath slip made of lining material to keep the skirt to my jersey dress from stretching. The side seams are not attached to the dress along the bottom six inches but are finished off separately to prevent binding and still give the desired protection.

—MRS. D. H.
DEAR POLLY—Caroline's letter reminded me of my solution to the problems of skirt linings. I remove the linings from the BACKS of my cast-off skirts and put them in any new ones. This is simple to do and saves the time and money used to make new ones. I do not line the fronts unless the material really requires it.
—RUTH

DEAR POLLY—I was given a small notebook with bright orange pages and wondered how I would use it until I started making my shopping list on it. It is great. The bright paper shouts out from among the other things in my purse. I plan to get another gaudy notebook when this one is used up.
—LUCILLE

DEAR POLLY—When packing pie slices for lunch carriers, slip the pie inside a cellophane bag, inflate it and tie the top with a twistie from a bread bag. Meringue even stays in good shape.
—MRS. J.B.

DEAR POLLY—Before pouring from a can of paint or using any of the paint from it, loosely roll a piece of paper toweling to fit. With a table knife, press it down into the sealing lip on the top of the can. When through painting, remove this paper and the lid will fit tight without the usual sticky mess. Also, tape toweling around the can so it will absorb any runs down the sides.

We used to know a man who always carried his bass viol around with him just in case someone might ask him to play it. It was a lot of trouble but he was willing to take that trouble.

The grand-slam force is like that bass viol. You won't get many chances to use it; but when you get an opportunity, you are well paid for your trouble.

In its basic form the convention is simple enough so anyone can learn it. You may use it when your side has bid just one suit or when several suits have been bid but only one has been raised. In that case the grand-slam force is for that one agreed suit.

Furthermore, you may remember that the five no-trump grand slam force is not to be confused with the five no-trump follow-up to a Blackwood four no-trump.

This means you can't use the basic grand-slam force after Blackwood. There is a grand-slam force that you can use after Blackwood, but right now we are working with the simplest one.

South might well have jumped Immediately to three hearts or next to four diamonds but he was one of those minimum bidders. That is, he was a minimum bidder until he was raised in diamonds. Then he used the grand-slam force.

The play required some care. He played out his queen of diamonds at trick two, ace of hearts at trick three, ruffed a low heart at trick four and continued to ruff back and forth until he had ruffed out two more hearts. After that he pulled trumps and collected the last two tricks with his king and jack of hearts.
